No decision on Neumann Homes

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

After a lengthy public hearing, the combined planning and zoning board made no decision about whether or not it should recommend the Neumann Homes proposal. The board of directors of the Village of Antioch will have to wait until after the special meeting on Oct. 25 of the combined planning and zoning meeting to hear the decision.

As part of its presentation, Neumann showed an ill received five-minute promotional video that if anything served to strength opponents' oppositions to the plan and the densities being sought.

After showing the video, Chris Lebling, division president of Neumann Homes in northern Lake County said, "We focus on lifestyles. We look to bring people together."

Previously, Ken Neumann said of the proposal, "The biggest thing about this new proposal is that it exactly and precisely meets the requirements set by the village board when they denied our last proposal. Everything is as per their (the village's) ordinances and rules."

Kevin Crowe, vice president of land acquisition, went through point by point the previous objections leading to the denial of the 1,309 home proposal earlier this summer. He noted, among other things, that density was equated to 1.96 dwelling units per acre; that lot coverage would not exceed 30 percent; that there would be sewer and water by final plat; and that no variances are being sought.

Many of the residents who chose to speak commented about the discernible difference between Neumann Homes' rhetoric about offering a friendly lifestyle that brings people together and the reality of suing the village for millions of dollars.

Resident Pete Bolander, of the Eagle Ridge homeowners association, said, "The lawsuit against the village is offensive."

Gregg Umek questioned, "Would a good neighbor sue for $59 million?"

Dee Reeves stated flatly, "Friends don't sue friends." To the board she added, "A vote in favor of this proposal, with no comment, is totally unacceptable."

Much of the other public comment dealt with preserving the natural amenities of the property. Just as Lebling had presented a "drive through" of the proposed community, Marianne Guy presented a walk through of the property as it stands now, and questioned how the proposal could be considered in conformance with the amended PUD (planned unit development) ordinance.

She asked if there had been a site visit by all of the board members to "further understand the topography of the property for the purpose of preserving the natural setting of the development, including trees, waterways, ponds, sloughs and the like."

Resident and geology professor at the College of Lake County, Ron Riepe, made several points about protecting the ecology of the property and protecting trees.

The question, asked on Oct. 11, was answered on Oct. 15 when the board of directors of the Village of Antioch unanimously approved amendments to the tree preservation ordinance, and waived a second reading to get the law on the books. This newly strengthened ordinance will likely thwart this proposal put forth by Neumann Homes.

Police pooch pinches pot peddlers

With the help of Coal, the drug sniffing canine and newest member of the Antioch Police Dept., more than one pound of cannabis was seized, and two arrests were made on Oct. 10 in an ongoing investigation.

Christopher M. Tomassetti, 21, of Antioch, was arrested for the class 3 felony of possession of cannabis with the intent to deliver. Jennifer L. Keel, 18, also of Antioch, was arrested on the scene for possession, though additional charges may be pending following the crime lab analysis of additional controlled substances discovered during the search.

Det. Sgt. Craig Somerville said the arrests were the result of investigation based on information and cooperation received given to the Antioch Police Dept. by local residents. Following the leads that developed, police conducted a search at a residence on North Ave.

"Over a pound of cannabis was seized which was being processed for sale in the community," said Somerville. A digital gram scale, boxes of clear plastic "baggies" used for packaging marijuana, a small amount of hashish and illegal prescription drugs were also seized.

Somerville said that, according to statements taken during the investigation, the cannabis was being sold to Antioch high school students after school hours. "The students would come to him after school," said Somerville. "This wasn't happening on school property."

"This is an ongoing investigation and leads are still being pursued," said Somerville. "We still have some hopes of cooperation and bigger and better things."

Somerville said the police department is proud of the performance of the K-9 unit and the officers involved in this case.

The Antioch Police Dept. investigates any information received from citizens. "This is another example of the police department developing a partnership with the community in an effort to resolve problems," said Somerville. "We greatly appreciate the response of the community."

Unlawful possession with the intent to deliver, a class 3 felony, is punishable by 2-5 years in prison and fines not to exceed $25,000. Three automobiles were seized under the asset forfeiture laws.

Both arrestees face Nov. 1 court dates at the Lake County Circuit Court.

Tree ordinance approved, second reading waived

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

In order to get amendments to the ordinance governing "preservation and replacement of trees" on the books, the board of directors of the Village of Antioch voted unanimously to approve the amendments and waive the second reading of the ordinance.

The ordinance was initially addressed when residents came to the board and asked that an old oak tree in the Woods of Antioch be spared from construction near it that will likely cause its demise.

Replacing certain portions of the text, and by adding new conditions in other areas has strengthened wording in the ordinance.

It says the goal of the ordinance is to "insure it is less expensive to save existing trees than to provide replacement trees. Additionally, it will now read, "Mass cuts and filling shall be discouraged and grading or density variances can be used to encourage the preservation of woodland or blocks of tree stands."

Wording that would have been key to the specific tree in the Woods of Antioch is that the formula for calculating "drip lines," or how far out a tree's root system is calculated, has been increased.

Other changes to the text will read, "Any mature tree designated for replacement due to an extended grading area shall be given all possible chance for survival at the developers/owners expense. Extended grading areas shall not be granted for the sole purpose of placing buildings on individual lots."

Under "Standards of Replacement" the ordinance will now read, "The intent of this subchapter is minimizing loss of mature trees and wildlife cover through protective measures, careful planning and tree replacement. This chapter shall apply to all new subdivisions and PUD's (planned unit development) not currently approved by the village board, and may be considered as a condition for approval of any special use or variance submit-tal."

The ordinance is available for review at the office of the village clerk, 874 Main St., Antioch.

Death on Chain caused by alcohol

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Alcohol was a contributing factor in the accident that caused the year's first death on the Chain O'Lakes. The accident happened in the early morning hours of Sept. 29 on Lake Marie in Antioch when Green Oaks resident Carol Jarrell, 58, was reportedly taking her boat for "a last spin."

"There were three contributing factors in the accident," said Deputy Chief Fred Heidecke of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. "Her (Jarrell's) blood alcohol concentration (BAC) was .19, or over twice the legal limit, speed was a factor as was limited visibility."

No other controlled substances were found during the tests performed by the Lake County coroner's office.

It was estimated that the speed of the boat was 28 mph. Lt. Bruce Scottberg of the county's marine unit said there is a nighttime speed limit of 25 mph.

"If working properly, the speedometer should be lit up the same way as a car's," said Scottberg.

Jarrell was ejected into a field when her 24-foot, single hull boat ran aground at Lake Marie shore and subsequently caught fire and almost completely burned. Previously, Heidecke said the boat was airborne for about 75 feet before hitting ground.

Antioch Rescue Squad took her to Provena Medical Center in Waukegan where she was pronounced dead at 4:40 a.m. of multiple traumas.

The victim's son Wade Jarrell, 32, of Chicago, was the only reported witness.

VFW hosts scholarship competitions

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The Sequoit VFW Post 4551 is hosting two scholarship competitions: one for seventh- and eighth-graders and the other for freshman-seniors. Both have patriotic themes and are part of the national VFW "Voice of Democracy" competition.

High school students will be required to write and then record an essay of 3-5 minutes on "Reaching Out to America's Future." Seventh- and eighth-graders will be required to write a 300-500 word essay on "Freedom, Really Free."

The high school students are judged on both the context of the essay and how well it is presented in the audio tape.

Students in both age groups will first compete with eliminations locally, within district (Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Grayslake and Winthrop Harbor), statewide and nationally. The national award is a $10,000 scholarship for the seventh- and eighth-graders and $25,000 for the high school level. Awards for both local-level winners are $100 savings bonds from Post 4551.

"We had a heck of a time making a decision last year," said Bob Lindblad, voice of democracy chair. "There were a couple of really wonderful presentations."

Sequoit VFW Post 4551 must receive all entries by Nov. 1. Lindblad said additional information has been provided to local schools, and that most of those schools have a place for students to leave their submissions.

A decision will be made at the local level by Veteran's Day, Nov. 11.

The VFW will host a dinner for all local competitors on Jan. 12. "We'll give them a nice dinner and there will be some other prizes," said Lindblad.

Home schooled students are eligible. For more information, contact Lindblad at 395-0899.

New guard prepares for office at Dist. 34

Ceremony for Newton planned

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Only a little reorganization will be necessary in November when Antioch Community Consolidated Dist. 34 loses board of education president Earl "Bud" Newton, and takes on newly elected board member Theresa Kovach.

Supt. John Hunt said no decisions have been made as to how the board will reorganize.

A special ceremony will be held for Newton, a 10-year veteran of the board, on Nov. 20.

Kovach, who will officially take her place on the board that same day, said, "The school board has been allowing me to attend its meetings and learn, but I don't get to vote."

She said she hopes that her participation on the board will help to "raise the bar" with regard to curriculum.

"Dr. Hunt has been fabulous, and has talked to all of the board members," said Kovach. "He's created the Antioch Advantage District Action Plan to address curriculum. I hope when there's a committee set up (for that plan), that I can be part of it."

She added that with all of the development in the area, the district should be looking further down the road. "The board has been doing a great job, but we need to keep up with constant improvements."

Another goal of Kovach's is to bring all the schools within the district together. "I was amazed when I was campaigning how many people weren't sure if their elementary school was part of Dist. 34," she said. "I think we should be referencing the schools as 'Dist. 34, Oakland' and 'Dist. 34, Petty' so people realize all these schools are part of the same district."

Boy Scouts host annual spaghetti dinner

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Boy Scout Troop 92 is hosting its 42nd annual spaghetti dinner on Oct. 21 from noon-7 p.m. The lip-smacking, noodle-slurping shindig will take place at the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525.

Last year the troop served up 160 pounds of noodles and 150 pounds of hamburger to nearly 1,100 children and adults.

The dinner is a major fund-raiser for the scout troop. "This is such an exciting day for us every year," said Bill Bruno, scoutmaster for the troop. He added that the money is used to offset the costs of camping fees and equipment.

Five dollars buys an all-you-can-eat meal with slaw, bread, dessert and a drink. Children under the age of 5 years old eat for free.

There will be drawings for prizes throughout the day.

Troop 92 is made up of 38 members between 11-17 years old. It meets weekly at the Scout House in Antioch, and goes to a variety of different campsites monthly.

In addition to the fun activities, the troop takes part in many community service projects. The scouts have been maintaining 50 wood duck boxes at the Chain O'Lakes State Park since 1980. Troop 92 also assists the Northern Illinois Conservation Club with its annual fishing tournament at Channel Lake and helps the Antioch Lion's Club and the Antioch Rescue Squad with the annual chicken barbecue and auction.

The Moose Lodge is located on west Rte. 173 in Antioch. Tickets are available at the door, or in advance by calling Veach at 838-0855.

Halloween coloring contest offered

Children in Antioch and Gurnee are invited to take part in a Halloween coloring contest sponsored by the First National Bank-Employee Owned from Oct. 15-29.

"This is the first year we're doing a coloring contest," said marketing officer Karen Kubin. "In the past we've done a pumpkin decorating contest, but these pictures will be easier to display at the bank."

The contest is open to kindergartners through fifth graders. In Antioch, the pictures are being distributed in the schools, or children can stop by the bank and pick one up. In Gurnee, children need to stop by or drive through the bank.

Kubin said the picture, of a scarecrow, is simple enough for young children and older children will be able to decorate the scarecrow more.

All entries will be displayed in the bank lobbies, and entrants need not be present during the judging. Judging will take place on Oct. 30 in separate contests for Antioch and Gurnee, and prizes will be awarded by age category.

For more information, or to have a scarecrow mailed, call Kubin at 838-2265, ext. 319.

Eighth grade battlefield

Students in the eighth grade at St. Peter School used diplomatic strategy as well as the application of history and mathematics as it played an imperialism-world-domination-simulation game for three days.

Random groups were chosen to represent eight different countries. The four strong nations on one continent could choose war with each other or the colonization of the four weaker nations on another continent. The battle ended in a stalemate.

"These are the types of battles a teacher loves to witness," said social studies teacher Thomas Tukesbrey. "When all of the camaraderie and the practical application of developing skills are evident."

First Wednesday red, white, blue

St. Peter School has designated the first Wednesday of each month as "Red, White and Blue Dress Days" to show patriotism after the events of Sept. 11.

On Wednesday, Oct. 3, the students and faculty raised $600 that was sent directly to the American Red Cross disaster relief fund.

Interim principal Chris Mors said, "This day not only raised money for the disaster relief fund, but also showed we are united and proud to be Americans by displaying our nation's colors."

Intergovernmental agreements addressed to area school boards

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporters

A break out session of the Oct. 11 annual Lakes Region meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards welcomed the comments of those principally in charge of the Antioch-Lake Villa Center, a facility whose construction has just begun.

State Rep. Timothy Osmond (R-Antioch), Lake Villa Township Supervisor Dan Venturi, Antioch Community High School Dist. 117 (ACHS) Supt. Dennis Hockney and ACHS board of education President Phillip Delany shared their experiences of the intergovernmental agreement they entered into for the center during a segment called, "Working together: A Guide to Successful Intergovernmental Agreements."

The efforts of these four men, plus Antioch Township Supervisor Stephen Smouse, allowed for a joint project to provide facilities for the two townships, a senior services center that will operate the Catholic Charity's "Meals on Wheels" program as well as the high school district offices within a single building.

The center is being built on property purchased by ACHS for its second high school. The school district is providing about two acres of land for the facility and will extend the utilities from its new high school to the center.

Osmond secured $900,000 in funding through the Illinois First Program earmarked for Antioch and Lake Villa townships to assist with the construction of the building. Antioch Township has plans to sell its current building and use the proceeds to offset some of the construction costs of the center. Lake Villa will also add to the kitty.

"There was interest in how the pieces were put together," said Hockney. "I explained the importance of building relationships with the townships and villages, so that when something like this comes up, the relationship is already there. It makes it easier to come to an agreement."

The uniqueness and large scale of the $1.95 million plan appeared daunting to some of the conference attendees, so Venturi brought the concept down to a smaller scale with a more typical scenario. "For example, the Lindenhurst Park District has a new bus, but they have been dependent on school bus drivers to run it," he said. "Our township park director, Larry Bahnsen, has a commercial driver's license."

Venturi described how the township exchanges the use of Bahnsen's driving services in exchange for the use of the bus.

"The Lindenhurst Park District also saves 20-30 cents a gallon on diesel fuel," he said. "As part of our agreement, we sell to them, at cost, from our large supply of tax-exempt fuel." He noted that, while the park district qualifies for tax-exempt fuel, they couldn't afford to stock large quantities.

Delany said the reason for going with the concept of the joint center was because the property was key to the school district. "This piece of property is the link pin between our communities," he said. "The financial end was good for both townships as well as the district."

With the agreement two years in the making and construction beginning, Delany explained that the challenge now is to ensure that the building is fully utilized. He added, "Once seniors feel comfortable coming into a building they have a stake in, and they should it's their tax money, then they will feel more comfortable walking next door for some of the adult education classes we plan to offer."

POLICE BEAT

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ANTIOCH

Revoked driver's license

Terry R. Robinson, 39, of 762 Main St., Antioch, was arrested for driving with a revoked driver's license on Oct. 15 at 12:21 a.m. at the intersection of Main and Kairy streets.

Police clocked his vehicle at 53 mph in a posted 35-mph zone. Robinson's identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC and came back with information that his driver's license was revoked.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for driving while revoked and speeding. Robinson was released on personal recognizance pending court.

LAKE VILLA

Apartment fire

Three people were evacuated from an apartment building at 157 N. Milwaukee (Deep Lake Hermitage Apartments) when a fire broke out on Oct. 8 at 1:08 p.m. When police arrived at the scene, smoke and flames were issuing from a balcony on the "A" side of the building. The Lake Villa Fire Dept. put out the fire with an extinguisher. Cause and origin investigator Kurt Skinner and Doug Slazes informed police smoking materials caused the fire, and they determined it was accidental. There were no injuries and minimal property damage.

Improper use of registration

Raymond Serio, 27, of 34680 N. Peterson Ave., Ingleside, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Oct. 9 at 1:29 a.m. while driving southbound on Fairfield, south of Rte. 132. He was observed driving 60 mph in a 40 mph zone. He had no driver's license, but presented a seat belt citation instead. He stated that on Oct. 8 he had just purchased the 1988 Chrysler LeBaron convertible he was driving. The "license applied for" sticker showed a VIN for a different vehicle. Serio said the LAF sticker was from a Saab he owned, and he intended to get a proper sticker. He said he didn't know he could not transfer the stickers between cars. A check through the secretary of state's office, NCIC and LEADS showed him to be on parole. He was charged with driving without registration, improper use of registration and speeding. A mandatory court appearance is scheduled for Nov. 14 at 3 p.m. in Grayslake Branch III.

LINDENHURST

Minor possession of alcohol

Three young men, all under 20 years of age, were arrested by Lindenhurst Police and charged with minor possession of alcohol. The arrest occurred at the home of one of the alleged offenders, Michael V. Blocker, 18, of 69 Timber Lane, Lindenhurst, on Oct. 13 at 12:02 a.m. Arrested with him were Farrell O'Rourke, 18, of 120 Timber Lane and Eric Rohlwing, 19 of 2411 S. E. Thornwood, also in Lindenhurst. All three were released after posting $75 bond on a notice to appear at Grayslake Branch III on Nov. 7 at 9 a.m. Blocker had been arrested on the same charges on Oct. 7.

Three-car accident

Andy P. Rausch, 18, of 3110 Mini Dr., Wadsworth, was charged by Lindenhurst Police with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident after his car caused a 3-car accident. He said his newly-replaced brakes didn't slow him down as he approached the intersection of Grand Avenue and Granada, heading eastbound on Oct. 13 at 12:16 p.m. His car hit a vehicle driven by a 40-year-old woman, who was taken to St. Therese Hospital. The woman in the second car was in pain and unable to speak at the scene. Her car was pushed into a third car, driven by a 54-year-old man, who said he saw Rausch's car approaching the second car, and heard a skidding noise. Rausch is to appear in Grayslake Branch III on Nov. 17 at 9 a.m.

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Though Antioch's parks and recreation department programs are in full swing for the fall, there are a variety of classes offered with later start dates to keep children of all ages busy through the holidays.

New drawing classes are being offered called "Promising Picassos." The classes are four weeks long, and a new session begins Oct. 25.

Basic drawing is available for 4- to 6-year-olds, and in a separate class for 7- to 12-year-olds. There will be a theme drawing class that features drawing a fairytale land called "Trolls and Toadstools" for those between the ages of 6-13.

Class fees range from $30-35, and the class size will be between 6-15 children.

New cooking classes are being offered with a session being held on Oct. 27.

Those between the ages of 6-10 will meet from 11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and will make

"spooktacular goodies" with simple candy molds and suckers. Those between 11-13 years old will meet from 12:30-2 p.m. and will also use candy molds and make suckers in addition to pretzels. The fees for the cooking classes are between $12-15, and the class size will be no larger than 10.

The "Parent/Tot Boogie Babies" class begins on Nov. 2 for children 18 months-3 years and their parents. The class will run for 6 weeks on Friday from 9:45-10:30 a.m.

A Pom Camp begins on Oct. 19 for children 7-11 years old. This class will be held on Friday from 4-5 p.m. for four weeks.

American Stars of Dance conduct both the Boogie Babies and the Pom Camp through the Antioch parks department.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

For development

As a long time resident of Antioch familiar with Neumann Homes prior to their interest in locating here, I want to show my support for their latest proposal as reported in your paper recently. ("Neumann Homes Submits new Proposal," Antioch News, Aug. 30, 2001).

As much as some residents of Antioch don't want to face it, the truth is the Anest and White properties will be developed some day. My concerns are, if we prevent this community plan from going forward, the next developer might not go to such lengths to gain our approval and support. From what I read in your article, we are working with a local company whose decision-makers live and work in the area. What's more, Neumann will be hiring local tradesmen to build the community. This is Neumann's backyard, so their reputation here is critical.

According to the article, Neumann Homes has done everything the village has requested, and then some. The company has reduced its proposed number of homes (from 1390 to 1240), and reconfigured roads and entryways; and has proposed real steps towards conservation in protecting environmental treasures within its community. A donation of 39 acres for the parks department. Doesn't this demonstrate commitment?

Our village leaders are correct to require impact fees to mitigate the impact on local services here. That's what they should do to protect our wonderful village. Let's hope they keep an open mind and consider Neumann Homes' latest proposal. Important planning decisions should be made with an interest in fairness and with all the facts at hand.

IF YOU GREW UP DIALING,
IT'S TIME TO CALL AN INTERNIST.

If you were around before push buttons, cellular phones and call waiting, don't wait a minute longer. You're old enough to call a Doctor of Internal Medicine.

Internists are the medical doctors who make a practice of treating adults. They devote at least three additional years, after medical school, learning to prevent, diagnose and treat diseases that primarily affect grown-ups. So they're well prepared to listen and talk with you about a broad range of adult health care needs, from routine physicals and wellness programs, to the management of complex medical conditions.

So when it's time to choose a doctor, consider choosing a Doctor of Internal Medicine. They're the doctors for adults. Because whatever else you are, you're not a kid anymore. This message brought to you by:

What happened to the sugar and spice?

Who would have thought some 12 years ago when I gave birth to that bouncy, puffy-cheeked, little pink bundle that my mid-life years would be spent trudging from sporting event to sporting event. I only had visions of Barbie dolls and tea parties.

As I sit in yet another school parking lot waiting for the game of the day to begin, I watch all the moms and dads shuffling into the gymnasium, dragging siblings, and finishing up work related business on their cell phones. I thought this would be the time in my life that I would be sitting in the confines of my living room, in my robe and fuzzy duck slippers, sipping white wine and reading the daily newspaper.

Please assure us "soccer moms" that

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Lynn Pringle

somewhere, in some town, on some street, in some household, this sort of scenario is playing out—then give us the address of this lucky soul and we will gladly call cousin Vinnie to pay them a visit.

Life is just not fair. It is times like these, as I sit typing on my lap top balancing precariously on my knees, in my car, munching cold French fries and watered down diet

Coke, that I truly envy empty nesters, couples who choose to not have children, even parents of toddlers.

Granted I envy the latter group only a little bit, but soon their kiddies will be tucked in bed while visions of bottles dance in their heads while I am driving around Lake County dropping off children who needed a ride home.

The drive to the opposing team's school for the evening competition is a flurry of drilling and grilling of spelling words, mathematical equations and notes for any upcoming test, all while navigating unfamiliar streets in alien towns. Some might call this quality time—I call it "gray hair" time.

Once the destination is reached, the athlete is off to some pre-game practice while mom and dad select their gourmet dinner from the concession stand menu and settle upon the hard bleachers with volumes of school spirit. So as my idle time comes to an end, and my parent obligation to sit through yet another volleyball game hovers over the horizon, I think back to those 12 years ago when I was so anxious to get home from the hospital and start being a mom and wonder how many concessions stand hot dogs and pretzel can a person consume before the mustard permanently stains ones teeth?

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

Sam I am

It depends on what day you play but one thing is certain—you'll always get service with a smile.

That's the theme at the majestic Carillon North Golf Course, an executive 9-hole track tucked strategically within the Cambridge Homes subdivision off Drury Lane in Grayslake.

And somehow, Sam Zicarelli found his niche at Carillon.

Zicarelli, the course's director of golf operations, embarked on a golf career in 1993 after retiring from Abbott Laboratories as a senior financial analyst.

Sam Zicarelli

"I ran tournaments and charity events, mostly for the United Way (prior to 1993)," said Zicarelli. "But golf was always in my blood. After Abbott, my main goal was to become a golf professional."

Mission accomplished.

Zicarelli attended Professional Golfer's Career College in Murietta, Calif. in 1993. He graduated in 1994.

From there, he learned more of the trade while spending stints at The Golf Learning Center of America in Vernon Hills, Hilldale Golf Club in Hoffman Estates and Steeple Chase in Mundelein, to name a few. Steeple Chase was the last stop before coming to Carillon just over a year ago, when the course first opened.

"I had a great time at Steeple Chase," he said. "I was there for four years. I gave lessons, ran tournaments and worked in the pro shop."

But Zicarelli, 65, was quick to point out that while Steeple Chase was a great experience, the pace was a little fast for his liking.

"It got stressful at times because there was so much play," he said. "I just wanted to be in a little quieter atmosphere. Carillon lends itself to the more relaxed patron."

Enter Carillon and Bob Lashbrook, director for the Grayslake Park District. The Grayslake Park District owns the 20-acre piece of land on which Carillon sits.

"I had known Bob since 1997," said Zicarelli. "When he took over (the Park District), he told me he was opening Carillon. We got together. I asked if I could help run the course and we came to an agreement."

It was a match made in heaven.

"It's so peaceful out here at times," said Zicarelli. "We have wonderful people working here. They're friendly, competent and make you feel right at home."

The little things count, right?

"There's never any crisis situations here," said Zicarelli. "We always afford the homey, personable feeling towards our guests."

As far as the course is concerned, "It's a great place for beginners because it's short," said Zicarelli. "But it's also a good place for the advanced player to come and work on their short game. We cater to everyone but we have a special place in our hearts especially for the youngsters and the older folks."

Having all par-3s, Carillon has five forced carries, a good test for the advanced player. It's also a great place for parents to bring their kids because it's short. The longest hole is 165 yards.

The friendly staff includes the likes of Bob Schartz, Ken Russell, Tom Triphahan, Bob Hesser, Tom Pugh, Kathleen Sweeney, Shirley Copenhaver, Pat Young, Mary Jane Deyoe and Joe Kusiak.

"It's especially heartwarming when (83-year-old) Mary smiles at you," said Zicarelli. "Just one of the ingredients that makes Carillon a 'pleasant experience.'"

For rates and tee-times, please call 548-4713. Zicarelli said that he plans on having the course open until mid-November, weather permitting.

Tryouts for the 2002 spring Grayslake Galaxy Travel Soccer Club will be held Wed., Oct. 24 from 5-6:30 p.m. and Sun., Oct. 28 from 3-5 p.m.

John Phelps can be reached at (847) 223-8161, ext. 132; fax (847) 223-8810; or e-mail at edit@lnd.com.

So close, so far for Sequoit netters

By WESLEY WARD
Lakeland Correspondent

For most student athletes it is their dream to compete in state finals. But in reality, those dreams do not materialize all too often. Antioch High School's women's tennis team was just one step away from having three girls achieve their dreams and compete at the state level.

In No. 1 singles, Dina Izenstark was defeated in the quarterfinals of sectionals ending her dream. Though next season she will have another shot.

The No. 2 doubles team, consisting of Jen Richardson and Jen Buhrmester, also fell at the quarterfinal stage of sectionals. Had both the Izenstark and the No. 2 doubles team been victorious, the Lady Sequoits would have been represented at state.

"I am pleased that we had a chance to reach state competition," said Antioch head coach Bryan Plinske. "We have a young team with only two returning starters and most thought this would be a rebuilding year, but to have the girls almost reach state was quite an achievement."

"We have a young team with only two returning starters and most thought this would be a rebuilding year, but to have the girls almost reach state was quite an achievement."

Bryan Plinske
ACHS Tennis Coach

The Sequoits finished the season with a 7-9 overall record. Although that may seem like a disappointing record on the surface, Plinske was happy with the outcome of the season. Said Plinske: "This was pretty good season for us considering the conference we play in. It is always going to be tough when you face strong teams like Lake Forest, Stevenson and Warren year after year."

Izenstark, Richardson and Buhrmester broke the school record for matches played, each competing in a total of 25. Despite the rigorous schedule, Antioch maintained a positive attitude and, with the exception of JoEllen Darfler, kept injury free.

Darfler's injury midway through the season provided some lineup headaches for Plinske, however, players like Leslie Burke stepped up to fill in when called upon.

The outlook for next season looks bright with only Burke, Darfler, Jill Owens and Richardson graduating. Antioch has a wealth of talent waiting in reserves and next years squad should have the weapons to succeed once again.

Light shines bright for Lady Sequoit golfers

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Though it has concluded its season, the Antioch varsity girl's golf team has much optimism as it looks to next year.

The Sequoits shot a 425 in finishing 11th at the New Trier sectional last week.

"It was a tough sectional and we definitely didn't shoot our best," said Sequoit head coach Steve Wapon. "You can't do that when there's 48 teams left from around the state."

Junior Danielle Nielsen paved the way at sectionals with a 95. She was backed by sophomore Katie Malcolm (104), senior Whitney Sehmer (111) and sophomore Katie Lincoln (115).

"Take nothing away. It was another successful season," noted Wapon. "We lose Whitney but we have a lot of potential returning."

Antioch's second-place 396 at regionals earned them a second consecutive trip to sectional play. Fourteen teams competed.

In the 14-team meet, held at Marengo Ridge Golf Club, Malcolm and Nielsen picked up fourth-place medals after each fired 92.

"That was pretty good," said Wapon. "There were 96 players and they only gave out five medals. They helped lead up to the school's highest finish ever at sectionals." And that was all in hurricane-like conditions.

"The winds were incredible," said Wapon. "The girls played good course management. They did what they needed to and played smart. They battled the elements."

Lincoln (106) and freshman Megan Placko

(106) rounded out the Sequoit scoring. Sehmer (115) and Erica Hedlund (130) were right behind.

"It's been nice," said Wapon. "We have four underclassman back-four scores that have counted consistently." Success was also found in the always-tough North Suburban Lake. The Sequoits finished second in the division with a 4-1 dual meet record. Overall, the team was 8-3 in duals.

"That was pretty good for us," said Wapon. "When you're competing against teams like Lake Forest, it's going to be tough to win the conference."

Nielsen (98) and Malcolm (99) picked up all-conference honors at the NSC meet, finishing seventh and ninth, respectively. Nielsen also claimed a 13th place medal at the 20-team Barrington tournament. And it was Lincoln's 90 at the 20-team Champaign Centennial Invitational that led the Sequoits to a season-low tournament score of 373 at the University of Illinois' Blue Course.

"There is a bright light at the end of the tunnel," said Wapon. "We have the nucleus and a strong underclass group. The challenge comes where hopefully the girls will work hard and play more during the summer. We have a great group coming back. Good people."

Climbing the ranks and looking for varsity nods next year include a solid JV squad. Highlights included winning the 9-hole, 6-team Waukegan Invite. Hedlund claimed a second-place medal after firing a 37. Katie MacNeish was right behind in third with a 39, followed by 10th-place medal-winner Maggie Ludwig's 44.

Sequoit freshman football showing it can play

By JOE PRUSKI
Lakeland Correspondent

The freshman "A" football team for Antioch High has been the exact opposite of the varsity team this season.

Through eight games this season they have compiled a record of 7-1, and an average of over 37 points a game.

One of the main reasons the offense has been so successful has been a strong offensive line as well as an extraordinary contribution from fullback Nick Nathan. Alone, Nathan has scored over 100 points a season.

According to assistant coach Brent Pitt, if the team wins this weekend against Mundelein, they will have broke the Antioch record for freshman wins in a sea-

"You have to look at every team separately. Our main strategy is to win though."

son. "If this team wins against Mundelein it will be the best team to have come through here in 10 years," said Pitt.

With a high-powered offensive attack, you would think that the defense could possibly be lacking. However, the exact opposite is this case.

The defense has allowed an anemic 33 points the entire season, making it all but impossible to beat the Sequoits who are only allowing an average of four points per game. A solid contributor to the defense as well as the offense has come from Nathan Hughes, who plays both ways for the Sequoits at line-backer and running back.

"He's (Hughes) running hard and playing some really tough defense for us," said Pitt. According to Pitt the strategy for this week's game is rather simple, win.

"You have to look at every team separately," said Pitt. "Our main strategy is to win though."

Cheer competition Oct. 21

Varsity cheerleader Katie Albright, 11, prepares for the Antioch cheerleading competition Oct. 21.

The Antioch Cheerleading Association is hosting its 5th Annual Cheer/Pom-Pon Competition on Sunday, October 21, 2001 at Antioch Community High School.

PREP FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

Sequoits look for strong finish

The Antioch High football team will go into their last game against Mundelein looking to redeem some of their previous mistakes and go out on a winning note.

The Sequoits of Antioch will go into their final game Saturday afternoon with a record of 2-6, thus eliminating themselves from the playoff picture. In a game where it may seem as if a team has nothing left to play for, it could actually be the exact opposite.

"It's an important game to win," said head coach Del Pechauer. "It's important to win your last home game and it's also important for the seniors to win their final game."

The visiting Mustangs will head into battle in Antioch Saturday in the same boat as the Sequoits, a record of 2-6, and much pride to play for.

The loser of Saturday's game will sit at the bottom of the conference in the final standings.

Last year Antioch defeated Mundelein for their sixth win of the season, thus clinching a playoff spot. This year is a whole new ballgame. Both teams will be fighting for the better record and have many seniors that will walk off the field for the last time this weekend.

According to Pechauer, his team feels they can pull out a victory.

"This is definitely a winnable game," he said. "Their guys are going to give us problems though, hopefully we will give them more."

Last week's home game for Antioch against Warren was filled with problems for the host Sequoits.

Antioch fell to the Blue Devils 20-0 in a messy, sloppy game, literally.

The rain fell hard during the sophomore game as the sophomore team tore the field to mud before the varsity game ever started.

The Sequoits continued their passing attack, however, it was not nearly as successful as it was against Stevenson.

Senior quarterback P.J. Hilbert will start the final game of the season for Antioch, having started every game the entire season. —Joe Pruski
Carmel 42, Benet 0

Not even heavy winds, a torrential down-pour or a muddy field could slow down

Carmel's offense as the Corsairs trounced Benet 42-0 to move to 8-0 on the season and 6-0 in the Catholic Metro White.

"I figured that we would score maybe 14 points in this weather," said head coach Andy Bitto.

The game was scoreless after the first quarter but then Carmel came out with a barrage of 36 points in the second quarter.

Quarterback Matt Roe led the team on the ground with 148 yards on 11 carries, including a 73-yards TD run in the third quarter to cap Carmel's scoring. Tailback Eric Luna chipped in with 56 yards on 15 carries and two TDs as the Corsairs rushed for 293 yards in the game.

"We were able to take advantage of what they (Benet) gave us on offense," said Bitto.

Next game: at Joliet Catholic Oct. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

Libertyville 56, Lake Forest 22

The Wildcats aren't used to playing a "must win" game in order to just qualify for the playoffs.

That's exactly the situation Libertyville faced in its latest game against NSC Lake rival Lake Forest. The situation was made even more desperate by the fact that the Cats' final game was against a very strong Stevenson team in Lincolnshire.

With their backs against the wall Libertyville responded with a 35-2 half-time lead to put the game.

The Cats amassed a balanced 316 yards of total offense, 160 yards on the ground and 156 yards through the air.

Tailback Gerett Burl provided much of the ground attack as he rushed for 117 yards on 10 carries and two TDs while quarterback Kevin Egidi (9-13, 156 yards) threw for three TDs, including a 62-yard TD pass to Shane Voigt in the first quarter.

The win moves Libertyville's overall record to 5-3 and 3-1 in the NSC Lake, meaning that should the Cats beat Stevenson they would clinch a tie for their third straight conference title.

Next game: at Stevenson Oct. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

Siwy had a key interception and stopped the Hornets drive to end the half. Kyle Siedlecki put the Timberwolves on the board with a 30-yard punt return for a score to tie the game at 6-6. Ryan Thorsen led rushing attack for over 100 yards on the ground. T.J. Siwy hooked up with James Manheer for the game-winning touchdown.

In the McHenry 1 game the defense shut down Hornets with interceptions by Nick Waido, Matthew Kremser, and T.J. Siwy. The offense was led by T.J. Unsung legend

By ROB BACKUS
Staff Reporter

You may have not heard of Denny Porter, but the coach of the Antioch Vikings' youth football lightweight teams has won more games in his career than legendary Chicago Bears head coaches George Halas and Mike Ditka—combined.

He is one person who has participated with success, not only in the Vikings program, but with youth football across the state.

In a 33-year youth football coaching career, Porter has amassed a 496-33 record with three different programs including the Vikings. For the record, Halas' mark as coach with the Bears was 324-151-31, Ditka's was 112-68.

However, his illustrious coaching career almost never happened.

In 1968 Porter, fresh out of college at the University of Missouri-Columbia and living in Palatine, was looking for a way to meet some new people and stumbled upon the Palatine Jaycees, a community service organization.

"I went to the first meeting and there was a list of 20 projects on the board and I had to choose one," said Porter. "One of them was organizing youth football. But I didn't want to do it at first. I was talked into doing it."

Coach of Pop Warner football team in Antioch is greatest coach you've never heard of

It's a good thing for the hundreds of kids Porter has coached over the years that he was convinced to do it.

That year Porter organized the Palatine Panthers and coached the heavyweight team. The team went 14-0 and won the league.

The following year, the team went 15-0 and won the league.

In 1970 the program had grown so large that it split into two programs, North and South. North fed into Palatine High School and South fed into Fremd High School. Porter coached the South team, finishing second.

Following the 1970 season, Porter moved to Buffalo Grove, forming the Buffalo Grove Bills, which started play in 1972.

One little known fact about the Bills and the Panthers is that the team colors for both are black, gold and white, the same as the colors of the University of Missouri Tigers.

Porter coached two lightweight teams (under 115 pounds) for the Bills from 1972-1995 and was successful in just about every season.

In the 23 years with the Bills, Porter's teams won the league championship 20 times, finished second once and third once. Only one time, in 1991, did he finish with a losing record. The 1991 team finished with a 3-8 record.

"Usually teams are seventh and eighth-graders but this team was all sixth and seventh-graders," said Porter. "Despite the poor record, the kids vowed to win

All previous records were shattered as picture perfect weather provided the incentive to take the classic or special interest cars to Lake Geneva. The 24th Annual Lake Geneva Classic Car Rally benefited the American Cancer Society. Nearly 1,100 cars, trucks, boat-cars, "Amphicars," motorcycles and cars towing boats participated.

Approximately $35,000 was raised to fight childhood cancer in memory of Corinne Kreissl, to be added to the $354,347 raised since the first rally in 1978.

Founders of the Corinne Kreissl Foundation, George and Jan Kreissl, presented the awards and door prizes, and thanked all participants, volunteers and donors.

LEGEND

it all the next year and they did."

In fact that 1992 team beat the Elgin Chiefs, the National Pop Warner champs, 35-20 on its way to the title.

Many other Bills teams also enjoyed success.

His 1977 team outscored the opposition 646-0 in an undefeated season. In 1982, Porter's team won the National Pop Warner Championship in Atlanta.

From 1981 to 1993, his team enjoyed a 123-game winning streak.

However, Porter doesn't give much of the credit to himself, but to others surrounding him.

He gives much of the credit from his days with the Bills to his long time assistant coach Paul DuVal.

"I was the head coach and ran the offense and Paul ran the defense," said Porter. "A lot of the credit goes to the other coaches I've worked with. The key to success is to surround yourself with good people."

Following the 1995 season, Porter moved to Antioch and began to coach the lightweight team within the Vikings organization.

Porter inherited a 30-0 team from Brent Gandolfi and increased the winning streak to 68 games that ended with a loss to Libertyville.

"Denny has brought a lot of football knowledge to the program," said Nebel. "We've starting using his offensive scheme throughout the entire program."

In addition to the coaching knowledge and added success that Porter has brought to the Vikings, he has also been vital to the program in other ways as a member of the board of directors including organization of trips and fund-raisers.

Although the 496 wins is already a Pop Warner record, surpassing the former record of 424 wins by Greg Fohrman of the Elgin Chiefs, picking up his 500th win would mean a lot to Porter.

"500 wins would be a great milestone," said Porter. "I've had a lot of fun and I've been really successful."

But win or lose, Porter plans to continue coaching for years to come.

"I intend to coach until I die," said Porter.

All across Lake County, youth football has become an institution.

The Antioch Vikings may be one of the smallest of these programs, but for over 30 years, it has also enjoyed being one of the most successful in the county, even before Porter joined it.

The program features both flag (5-to-6 year olds) and tackle football at five different levels including bantam (7-to-8 year olds), peewee (9-to-10 year olds), featherweight (11-to-12 year olds), lightweight (13-to-14 year olds) and heavy-weight (13-to-14 year olds).

The program has approximately 320 players at the six levels and an additional 200 cheerleaders.

"We grow by about 25 percent every year," said Antioch Vikings President John Nebel, who is also the coach of the featherweight team. "Right now we're the biggest we've ever been."

The Vikings compete in the Tri-County Youth Football League (TYFL) against teams from Cook, Lake and McHenry counties.

"Although we're the third smallest organization in the 10-team league, we compete very well against the big programs," said Nebel. "That's due in large part to the coaching at all of the levels. They help tremendously."

As featherweight coach in 1999, Nebel won a championship.

"My biggest pleasure as a coach is taking a group of kids and molding them into a solid competitive team," said Nebel. "The most important thing though is to have fun."

Nebel's duties as president include oversight of the seven-member executive board, which oversees field set-up, fund raising and registration.

"Those are all of the things you have to do in a volunteer organization," said Nebel of the board's responsibilities.

The future of the program is bright as it continues to grow.

"Our goal is to grow to the same size as the larger programs in our league," said Nebel. "We feel we could achieve this by bringing all of the players in Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst. We could develop into the best feeder program in Northern Illinois."

Anyone interested in some level of participation in the program should call (847) 604-4070 or visit antiochvikings.com for further information.

Don't worry about the expense, you've socked away enough savings to enjoy yourself a little bit. Expect the trip to go smoothly, with only a little opposition over the destination.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Your love for the spotlight works to your advantage this week, Leo. Show off your talents at a charity theater event or even just during a friendly game of Charades at a weekend soiree. Yet, be sure not to hog the spotlight — give others a chance to strut their stuff as well.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

You will have to make a big purchase this week, Virgo. It could be that new car you've had your eye on or a special piece of furniture. Be sure to think through the purchase before rushing forth with your credit card. Remember, finances are a little tight right now and you have to make your money count.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Your partner is acting quite jealous this week, and with good reason, Libra. It seems you've been stealing glances at an attractive coworker lately. You probably are confused over whether to pursue this interest. The right opportunity occurs on Sunday.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

You engage in a heated match of words with a family member this week, Scorpio. Don't let your vindictive nature shine through. Be the bigger person and refuse to add fuel to the fire — after all, the argument is over something petty. By Thursday things should cool off.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Keep your mind off of past love interests, Sagittarius. It can only get you into trouble. Try adding something different to your current relationship to add a much-needed spark. You'll find that something as simple as a new piece of clothing or dinner at a new restaurant can restore your relationship.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Juggling too much responsibility takes a toll on your spirits, Capricorn. It's time to slow down a bit and enjoy the view. Delegate some work to others to take some pressure off of you. Ask family members to help you with some of your household chores, like baby-sitting, laundry or a pot luck dinner. You'll feel refreshed by Saturday.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

You need to distance yourself from those who have been leaning on you too much. Get on with the things you like to do. Don't go out on a limb for someone else. You've worked too hard to risk everything you've accomplished. Taking drastic measures will not help if you have a problem with your mate. Ask for opinions.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Take a trip to get to know the nature of your business better. Work can be rewarding if you visit clients and get to know them a little better. Romantic opportunities will unfold through the creative projects you pursue. You'll be popular with friends.

SPECIAL EVENT

Award-winning new-age artist Robert Mirabal to perform at CLC

Robert Mirabal performs "Music from a Painted Cave" on a PBS-TV fundraiser. Mirabal will be in concert on Oct. 21 at CLC's Mainstage Theater.

Robert Mirabal, an award-winning flutist, vocalist, drummer and songwriter, will perform in concert at 7 p.m. on Oct. 21 in the Mainstage Theatre at the College of Lake County in Grayslake. Tickets are $25 general public, $23 for CLC students, alumni and seniors and $10 for children under 12.

Mirabal is a native of the Taos Pueblo tribe in New Mexico where he learned drumming early in his life and started carving traditional Indian flutes at age 18. He is considered the most visible Native American flutist in the country today.

"That piece of wood gave me a life, a way to survive and a way to communicate," Mirabal noted.

Mirabal's music is an expression of the rich stories of his Native American culture with a blend of pop rock music. Mirabal's style is less commercial than many of his contemporaries, building his melodies on the rituals that have surrounded him all of his life.

As a musician, Mirabal has excelled with six successful albums to his credit. "Taos Tales," his most recent album reached number four on the New Age Voice Charts, and Amazon.com named him the New Age Artist of the Year in 1999. He gained national recognition from his appearances on several PBS-TV fundraisers, including "Music from a Painted Cave" and "Spirit: A Journey in Dance, Drum and Song."

For tickets or additional information, call the box office at 543-2300.

Cuneo Museum is the stage for 'Rumors' check it out!

Thirty-six years ago the Kirk Players presented their debut show in a modest church fellowship room. Later, the spacious Mundelein High School stage became home to seasonal productions. Approximately 117 shows later, the Players are taking their first production of the 36th Season to a new venue. The Cuneo Museum invited the Kirk Players to perform "Rumors," Neil Simon's classic comedy/farce, in the center of their beautiful mansion.

This opportunity allows an expansion of show dates to include more performances so that "Rumors" will have an unprecedented four-weekend run. Performance dates are Oct. 19, 20, 26-28 and Nov. 2-4, 9-11. The traditional Friday and Saturday evening performances are expanded, and three Sunday matinees have been added.

The seating capacity at the Cuneo mansion is a mere fraction of the space that the Mundelein High School Auditorium provides as the mansion seats less than 100 patrons. Due to this limited seating space, patrons must call the Cuneo Museum's 24-hour hotline to reserve seats. Kirk Player Season Tickets will be honored and individual tickets will be sold, but reservations must be made.

The Cuneo Museum and Gardens is located at 1350 N. Milwaukee Avenue in Vernon Hills. Ticket prices are $15.00 for adults and $12.00 for students, seniors and museum members. Call 362-3042 to reserve tickets. For more information, visit the Kirk Players web site at www.geocities.com/kirkplayers, or call John Lynn at 566-6594.

Cellist Matt Haimovitz kicks off Ravinia's Rising Star string series

Cellist Matt Haimovitz opens Ravinia Festival's eleventh annual Rising Star string series with an Oct. 26 concert. The Friday evening concert begins at 8 p.m. in Bennett Gordon Hall in the John D. Harza Building on the Ravinia Festival grounds. Haimovitz will be accompanied by Itamar Golan.

Since Matt Haimovitz's debut with the Israel Philharmonic and Zubin Mehta in 1985, he has made the transition from prodigy to a mature artist through his lyricism and intensity. Haimovitz's repertoire is ever-expanding and features classical cello sonatas, as well as twentieth century pieces. His musical knowledge had been employed by such orchestras as the Boston Symphony, the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Chicago Symphony, Orchestre de Paris and the Berlin Philharmonics.

Haimovitz's many honors include the Grand Prix Disque award for his recording "Suites and Sonatas for Solo Cello" and the Avery Fisher Career Grant.

The program will include Schubert's Sonata in A minor, D.821 ("Arpeggione"); Schumann's Adagio and Allegro; Chopin's Polonaise Brillante; Robert Stern's "Hazzkalah" for Cello and Piano; and Schostakovich's Sonata for Cello and Piano.

On Saturday, Oct. 27, Haimovitz will host a private master class at the Merit School of Music in Chicago. In the tradition of musicians sharing and teaching others, these classes have provided hands-on training for artists eager to learn more about technique and musicianship. Ravinia Festival supports educational programs through its several outreach initiatives.

For more information call 266-500 or visit the web site at www.ravinia.org.

Apple Tree presents a light-hearted 'Pygmalion'

Kate Fry as Eliza Doolittle in "Pygmalion"

George Bernard Shaw has fun with proper diction in "Pygmalion," a comedy about how society superficially judges people by their dialect and manners.

In this forerunner to the Broadway and Hollywood musical adaptation of "My Fair Lady," a self-centered professor of phonetics transforms a guttersnipe Cockney flower girl into someone who can pass herself off as a high-bred duchess.

Apple Tree Theater's revival of "Pygmalion" features veteran actor Daniel J. Travanti as the pompous, dictatorial Henry Higgins who can't pass up a challenge of reshaping scruffy Eliza Doolittle (Kate Fry, a talented young actress). Travanti comports himself with a boyish flair. By the end of Act II there's genuine heat between the professor and his charge.

Higgins is egged on by his kindly friend Col. Peckering (Roger Mueller, in a solid performance). But during the six-month experiment, Higgins gradually becomes enchanted with his adept student-turned-independent woman - though he isn't about to admit this even to himself.

Ann Whitney provides good support as Henry's wise but long-suffering mother as do Brian Gill as the doting rich admirer and Bill McGough, the streetwise philosopher Albert Doolittle.

This "Pygmalion," directed by William Brown, provides the expected light-hearted, but it's not faultless. Most of the cast seems to have mastered very little of the range of British accents demanded in this play. In addition, it's hard to drum up much enthusiasm for the Spartan one-size-fits-all set, with little in the way of scenic changes.

"Pygmalion" plays through Oct. 28. For tickets information call 432-4335.

Children experience the world with film

The Chicago International Children's Film Festival (CICFF) is again bringing the world to Chicago. From Oct. 25 - Nov. 4, the CICFF will present over 200 films from over 45 countries. Chaired by Ms. Maggie Daley, this year's festival will take place at Facets Multimedia, 1517 W. Fullerton Avenue in Chicago and at the General Cinemas' 2600 N. Western Avenue in Chicago.

Perfect fare for young people and perfectly acceptable by parents, the Chicago International Children's Film Festival was cited by Marjorie Hogan of the American Academy of Pediatrics' Committee on Communications as "A jewel representing the very best in international children's video and television programs that have passed strict criteria for selection."

From Sri Lanka to Denmark, filmmakers the world over recognize the CICFF as the premiere festival of films for children and submit over 600 entries for consideration each year. The festival draws an audience of over 22,000 children and parents.

Drake Theatre presents 'Six Degrees of Separation'

Inspired by a true story

Barat Campus of DePaul University will present John Guare's "Six Degrees of Separation," a long running Broadway play, directed by JoAnne Zielinski featuring Clarence Booth as Paul, Julie Postesta as Ouisa and Edward Beck as Flan.

Inspired by a true story, Guare's vibrant and funny play follows the trail of Paul, a young black con man, claiming to be Sidney Potier's son. Among Paul's victims are Ouisa and Flan Kitteredge, wealthy New Yorkers, who open their home and pocketbook to this young man. Paul assumes the guise of a Harvard College chum of their two children. Soon after, Paul is arrested and his hosts realize they are victims of an elaborate hoax. Guare has packed an amazing amount of observant social context and intellectually challenging ideas into "Six Degrees of Separation," creating a humorous and finally searing panorama of urban American of precisely our time.

"Six Degrees of Separation" runs Thursday, Oct. 25 through Saturday, Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 28 at 3 p.m. Tickets are $9 general, $7 students/seniors. All seats are reserved. To order tickets and for more information, call The Drake Theatre Box Office at 604-6344.

'Bandits' has audience appeal you can take to the bank

Bank robbers, as film characters, are often portrayed as anti-heroes. Unlike villains, whom we love to hate, anti-heroes are the anti-establishment rogues we hate to love, but love anyway.

Director Barry Levinson's new film "Bandits" gives us two quirky anti-heroes: Joe (Bruce Willis), a hothead with a suave, sexually magnetic personality, and his unlikely friend and partner, Terry, an obsessive-compulsive hypochondriac, with a portfolio of neuroses.

Following a spontaneous jail-break, the pair remedies their poverty with a spontaneous bank robbery.

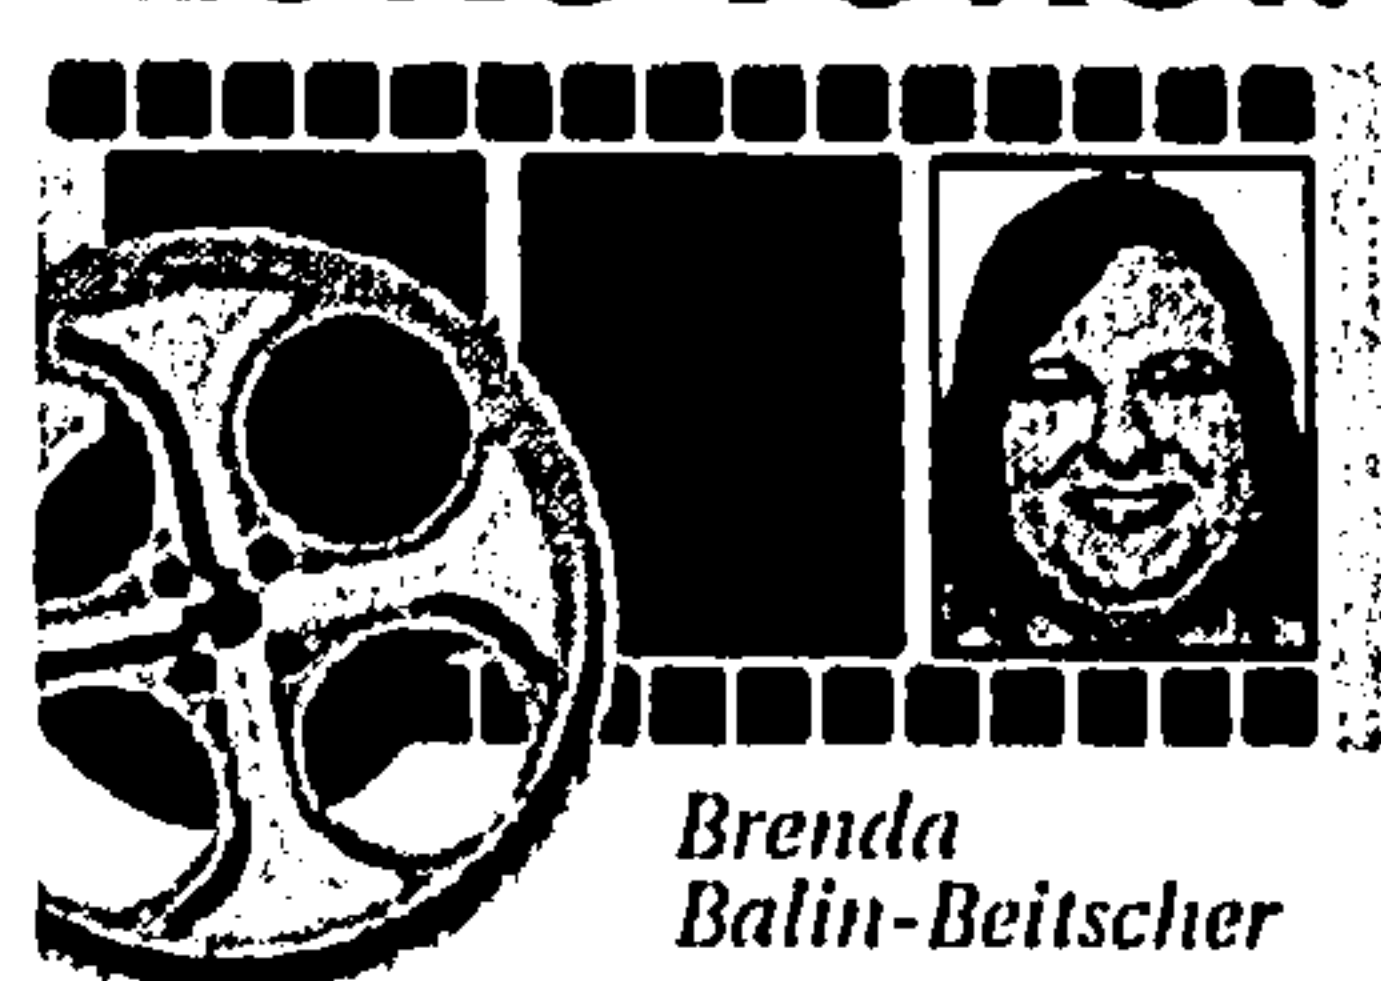

They get away clean, and while holed up overnight with a pair of teenagers with absent parents, they make plans for financing a new life as club owners in Mexico.

In order to make getaways more effective, they hook up with Joe's cousin, an amateur stuntman, who dreams of Hollywood, and a girl in pink cowboy boots.

In spite of a series of stunningly horrible disguises, the robbers become recognizable to the public, which dubs them the "sleepover bandits."

During the course of a clumsy getaway, Terry encounters Kate (Cate Blanchett), in the process of escaping a stultifying marriage to a neglectful husband. Kate attaches herself to the pair, becoming their accomplice while the police and media assume she is a hostage.

The triangle becomes yet more complicated as Kate decides that, together, the two thieves equal "one perfect man."

Barry Levinson, who has directed other offbeat movies such as "Rainman," "Wag the Dog," "Good Morning Vietnam" and "High Anxiety," apparently gave the actors free reign to develop the personalities in this character-driven romp.

Each character has several layers to penetrate. Joe, who appears, on the surface, to be a hot-tempered, fearless, smooth operator, is also given to reading and quoting Chinese philosopher Lao-tzu. Terry, a nervous wreck who assumes the symptoms of any disease within earshot, is also the mastermind of the sleepover bandits' extremely successful modus operandi.

As the police close in, the bandits make a last daring move.

Any more plot information would be a spoiler. The twists at the end are surprising enough to be fun, yet logically evolve from the characters and their situations.

The film defies genre, with something for everyone. A good film for couples, this movie will appeal to those who love "chick flick" romantic comedies as well as those who love more typical Bruce Willis vehicles, with lots of action and wild stunts.

For those concerned about the MPAA rating, there are shootings, but no deaths and little blood. There is sexuality, but it is understated and not graphic. The amoral message of the anti-hero may require some parental interpretation, but otherwise, the film is not objectionable for teens.

For its well-paced plot, well-drawn characters and offbeat sheer entertainment value, I give this film four well-packed popcorn boxes. Even at eight bucks a

ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP
ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR 2001

OFFICIAL ASSESSMENT LIST:

This publication is the official notice to property owners of the 2001 assessment changes in the Township of Antioch. These 2001 assessments, as published, are those determined by the Assessor and/or the Chief County Assessment Office. It is the duty of the Assessor to assess all taxable property on a uniform basis of valuation so that the assessed values of the various properties are a just and equal assessment of such properties according to law.

The assessment roll recording the values of property determines only the distribution of the total tax load among the individual property owners. The Township Assessor and/or the Chief County Assessment Office has no control over the amount of taxes levied, nor the public expenditures. The amount of these assessed values (subject to State equalization), minus applicable exemptions, multiplied by the established tax rate, determines the amount of your tax bill. The Assessor does not make the rate; he merely finds the value of your property.

EQUALIZATION

The following printed assessments, as well as all other assessments in the township, are at 33.33% of market value, having been equalized to that level by the Chief County Assessment Office, who has applied a factor of 1.0329 to all values except those assessed under the provisions of Chapter 35 (ILCS), Act 200, Secs. 10-110 through 10-140, 10-155, and 10-170 through 10-200. Application of the township equalization factor represents a 3.29% increase in assessments.

To determine the market value of your property, divide the total assessed value by 0.3333. If it appears that the resulting number is higher than the market value of the property, you may be over-assessed. If the resulting number is less than your opinion of market value, the assessment may be low.

ARRANGEMENT OF LIST

If you live in an incorporated area (city or village), your property is listed under the name of your city or village, which will be in alphabetical order. Each street within the city or village is also arranged in alphabetical order. Property owners living on the same street will be listed beginning with vacant or improved property that has no street number, followed by property with street numbers listed in numerical order.

If you live in an unincorporated area, the property is listed alphabetically by post office and street name. Then, property without street numbers will be listed first, followed by numbered properties in numerical order.

Questions regarding the grid system used in determining address numbers should be directed to the Lake County Map Services Department, whose telephone number is 377-2373. Please do not call this number with questions regarding your assessment.

INFORMATION ON ASSESSMENTS

Any property owner who has any question in regard to the assessment of their property should call the local Township Assessor's office. This publication does not reflect reductions for Homestead Limited Exemptions, Senior Homestead Exemptions, Senior Tax Freeze Homestead Exemptions, Homestead Improvement Exemptions or Disabled Veteran's Exemptions. The aforementioned exemptions are not removed from the assessment until the time of billing. You will see them removed on your tax bill.

Note that the value which appears is a total assessed value for the property. All values are subject to a State equalization factor certified to the County Clerk by the Illinois Department of Revenue. Any property owner who objects to the amount of their assessment should file a complaint, in writing, with the Board of Review on or before November 18, 2001. Complaints must be on the prescribed form and can be obtained by telephoning 377-2100, or by written request to the Chief County Assessment Office, 18 North County Street - 8th Floor, Waukegan, IL 60065-4335. Forms are also available on the internet at www.co.lake.il.us/assessor.

Insurance & Financial Services

Compare Our Annuity at 6.00%* To Your CD

When you do, you'll find a Single Premium Deferred Annuity from COUNTRY Insurance & Financial Services is probably outperforming your CDs and savings accounts. And our annuity looks even better when you consider you pay no current tax on that accumulation.

We also offer a Flexible Premium Deferred Annuity, currently earning 6.00%* which allows you to make periodic payments in any amount you choose, with a $50 minimum.

The unique advantages of an annuity that sets it apart from other retirement vehicles are these:

*Guaranteed minimum interest rate as well as a current rate.

*Guaranteed lifetime payments during your retirement, so you won't outlive your income.

Plus, annuities are designed specifically to help you accumulate money for retirement. And to encourage that, there are penalties for early withdrawal, an effective incentive to "leave it alone."

Zion unanimous vote OKs only peaker plant

Amount of fees to be paid to city yet to be confirmed

In the national clamor for more energy production, Zion may be the only Lake County community to embrace peaker plant technology.

While Round Lake was backing away from an agreement with Indeck and Waukegan's Mayor Dan Drew voiced his opposition to plans of Kinder Morgan Co. for a lakefront power plant, Zion officials took final steps to welcome Calpine, owner of Zion Energy, LLC.

Unlike other Lake County communities where peaker plants have been proposed, the welcome mat was out early in Zion.

Council members cast a unanimous vote to approve a host agreement.

Mayor Lane Harrison restated that the agreement includes payment to the city, but he has not confirmed reports that the energy company will pay $1 million in fees to operate in Zion.

Indeck promised $400,000 in host fees for Round Lake.

Calpine expects to build a 300-megawatt peaker plant with two natural-gas fueled turbines on Ninth Street and Green Bay Road.

Zion officials spent more than four hours Oct. 9 behind closed doors to iron out final details. Opponents sent out for pizza while waiting for officials to resume a regular meeting.

Last year, Libertyville defeated an Indeck plan. Several years ago Island Lake residents knocked out plans for construction of supplemental energy producer.

County mourns passing of one 'terrific kid'

Round Lake QB died doing what he loved

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Singing in the bathtub. Calling the neighbors to tell them their pizza has arrived—only there was no pizza.

During a summer trip to the Wisconsin Dells, a video tape was made of his mother snoring.

Just the kind of guy Mike Lampi Jr. was. A prankster. A good all-around athlete. A terrific son.

"He was always making me laugh," said Debbie Lampi of Mike, who died suddenly Oct. 13.

"That's the thing I'll always remember him for. He was always playing practical jokes on anyone and everyone."

True, Lampi was a prankster but there wasn't an ounce of malicia in his blood.

"He was always trying to pick you up," she said. "He wanted people to be up all the time."

Lamp's sister Erin, a student at Northern Illinois, said, "He was always making goofy faces. He always had a hat on, too. I think he got that from our Uncle Dennis."

Panther teammates had nothing but great things to say about their former teammate.

"He was a big part of our team," said senior wideout Kyle Quedens. "There's nothing bad to say about him. He was always all smiles."

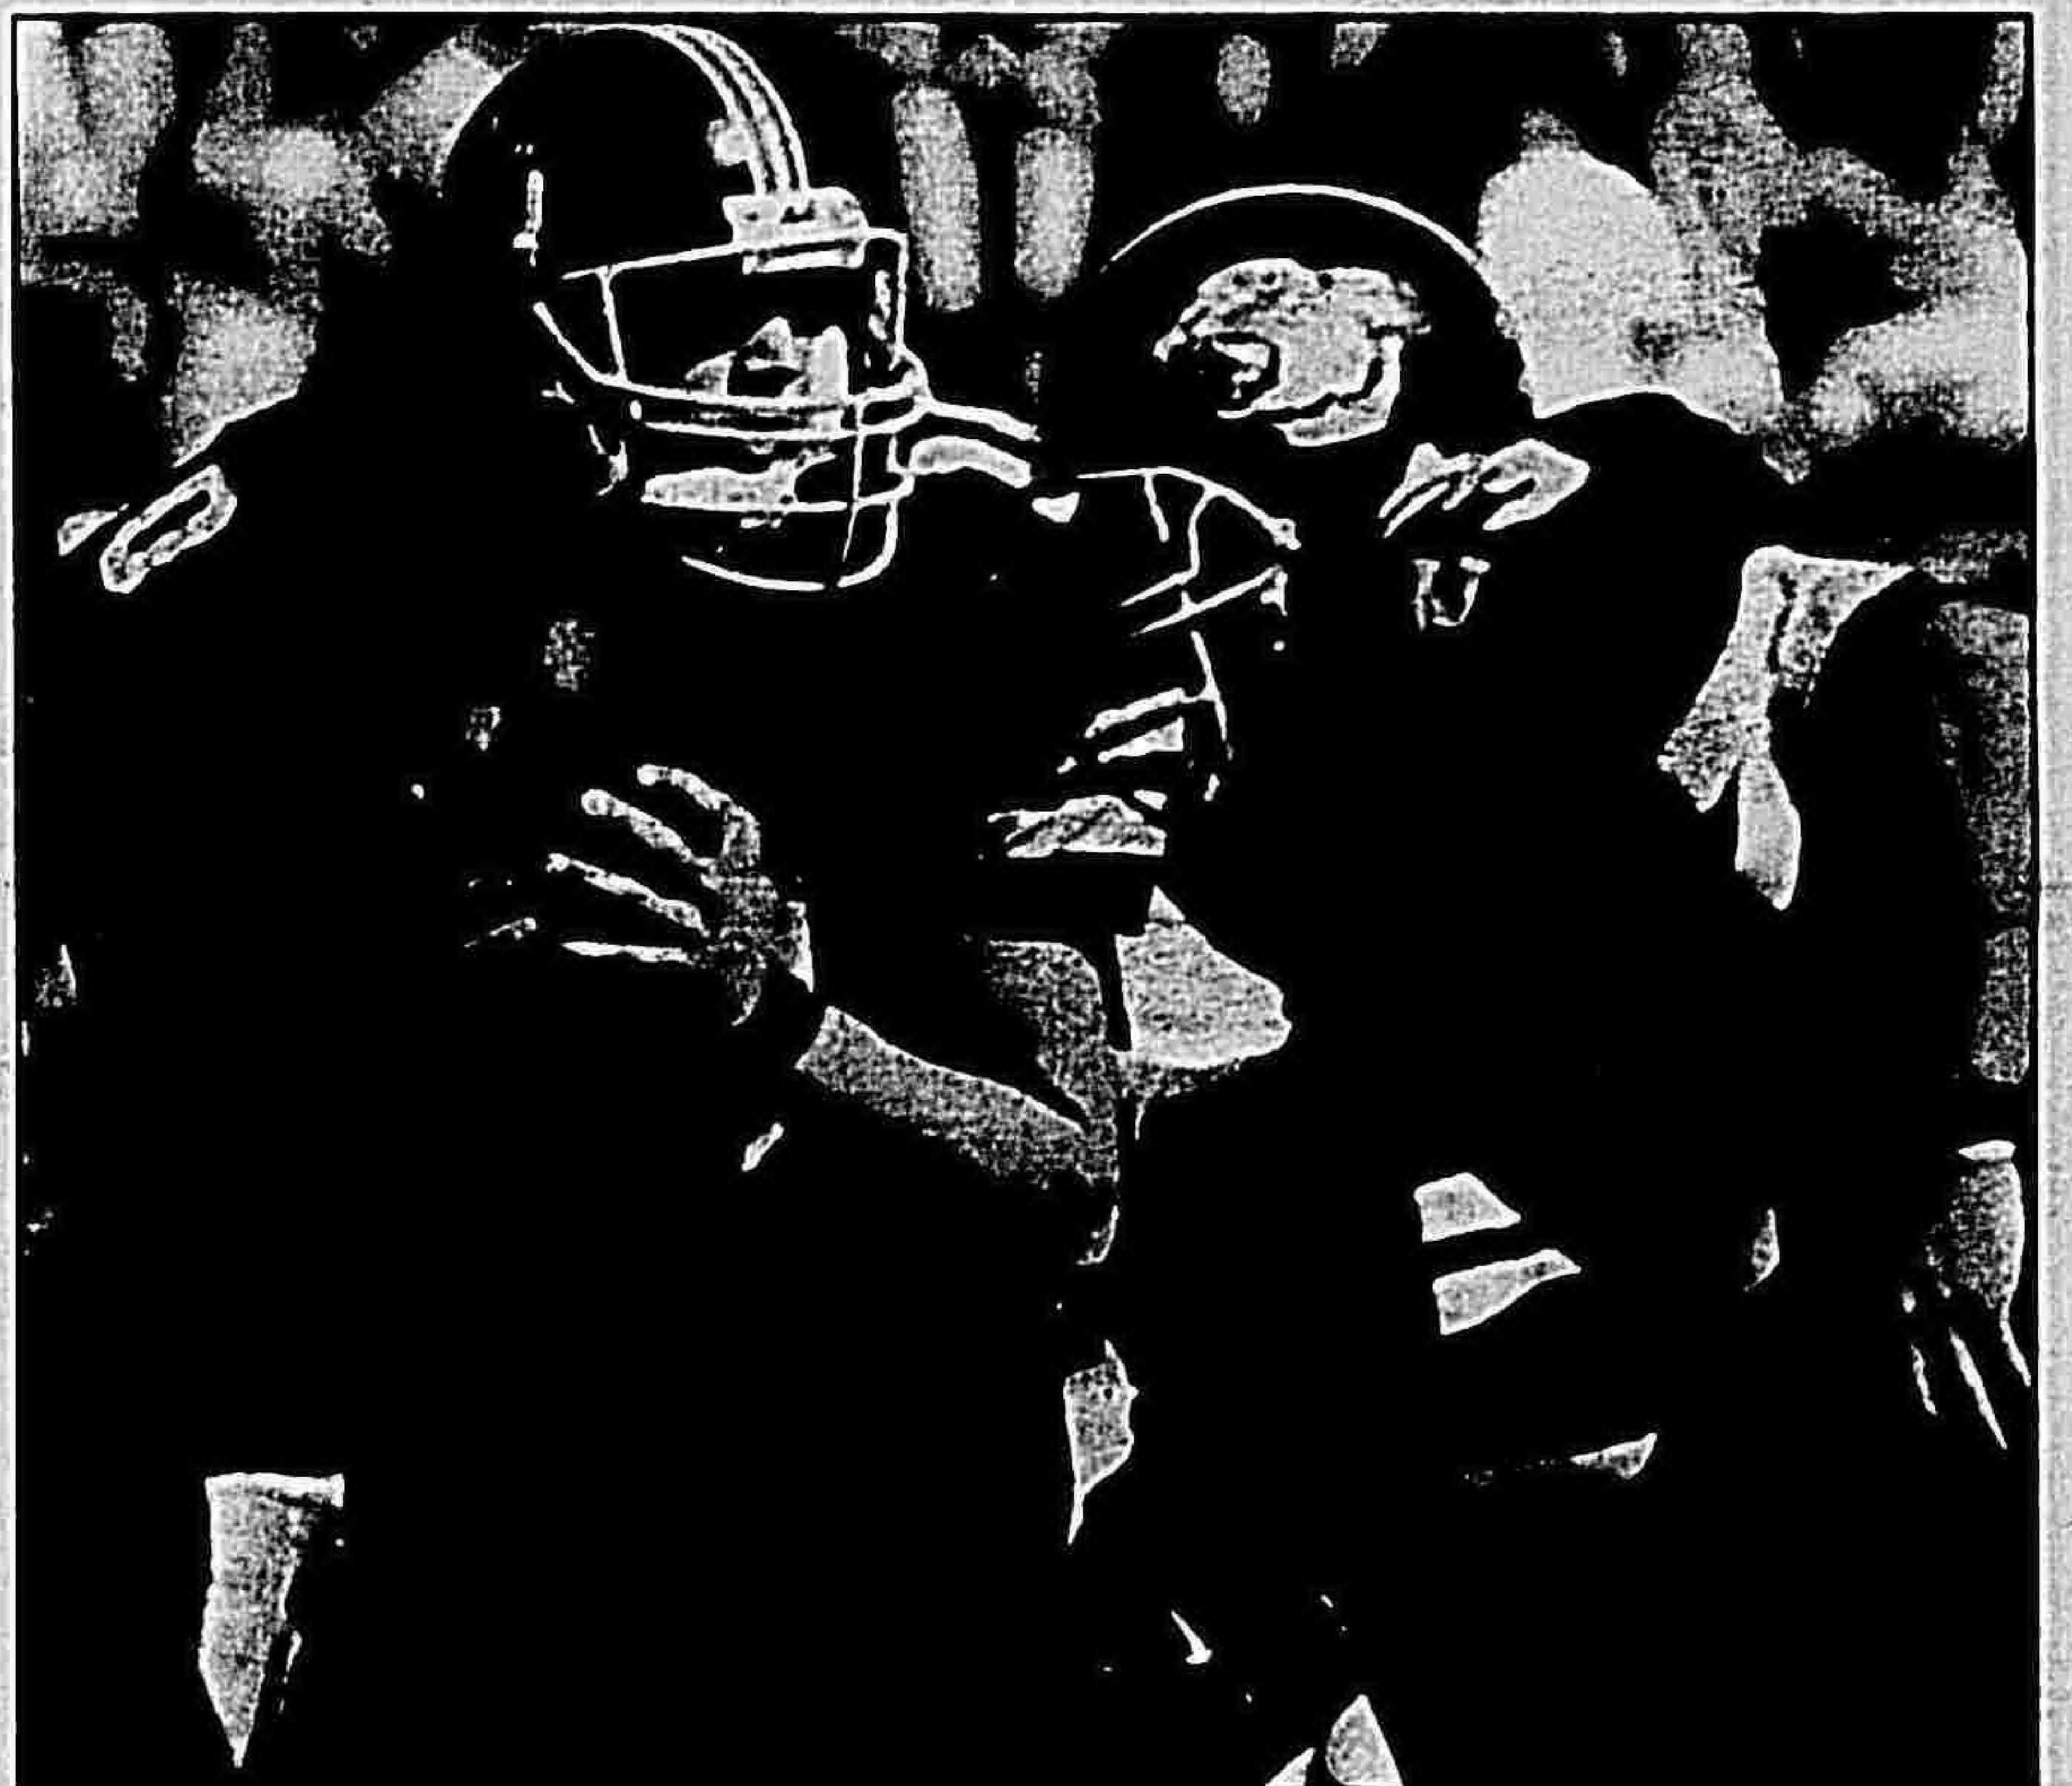

Round Lake's center, Mike Pfleeger, a senior, held back a tear or two in saying, "One of our guys is missing but we know he's looking down on us now."

The fact is, Lampi was easy-going and fun. But he also had the heart of a lion when it came to playing sports.

"He just loved to play them (sports)," said his mother. "And I loved to watch him. I went to all of his games, home or away."

The 17-year-old started at a young age. He began playing baseball at age 5 and basketball

Looking at nature

Oscar Beltran, Steve Poyser, Jenny Clark, Georgette Kupsche and Lori Bradsaw study birds at Ryerson Conversation Area near Lincolnshire. They are students at Westlake Christian Academy in Gurnee. Students found deadman's finger fungus, a vole, praying mantis and several types of forest birds. They also cutdown invading buckthorn during ecology class and learned that the cowbird is a bird parasite.

Heavy rains halt harvest

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

In a typical year in the middle of October, Lake County would be covered with combines, grain trucks and other harvesting equipment. This year heavy rains have left crops awaiting harvest and farmers questioning what their yield will be.

"Whole crops won't be wiped out," assured Greg Koeppen of the Lake County Farm Bureau. "Though, farmers with low areas have called with some concerns."

Koeppen said that most of the county is still covered with crops because the rain patterns of the last couple of weeks have made it impossible for farmers to bring them in.

"This is, by far, the wettest fall we've had around here," said Koeppen. "Hopefully it will stop raining so the guys can get out and harvest."

Most parts of Lake County saw 2-3 inches of rain with the last storm front, while Prospect Heights got hit with a 5-inch deluge.

"There's really no way to tell how the harvest will turn out until they (farmers) can get out there with their combines."

Carmel announces open house

On Sunday, Nov. 11, between noon and 3 p.m., Carmel High School will host an open house for prospective students and their families. Guests will have the opportunity to tour the academic, cocurricular and athletic facilities, as well as meet with faculty, students, coaches, and club moderators.

The afternoon is designed to be informative and fun. Science teachers will demonstrate fascinating experiments. The state of the art computer labs will be available for "hands-on" discovery, and those interested in fine arts may hear the melodic sounds of Carmel's instrumental and choral groups, as well as watch a Drama Club rehearsal.

Carmel is located on Route 176 in Mundelein, west of Interstate 94, east of Route 45 (Lake Street). For information, call Maureen Balzer, pre-admission/marketing director at 327-6320. Registration and tours begin at the auditorium entrance.

200 turn out for McKoski at Lake Villa fundraiser

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER

A festive atmosphere pervaded Raymond McKoski's fundraising party at the Lehmann Mansion in Lake Villa on Oct. 12.

Over 200 people attended the event for supporters of McKoski's run for the Appellate bench, including political notables from the area such as State Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch) and Lake Villa Township Supervisor Dan Venturi.

Several mayors were on hand, such as Ila Bauer (Round Lake Park), Rich Hill (Round Lake Beach), Frank Loffredo (Lake Villa) and Paul Baumunk (Lindenhurst).

McKoski greeted his guests with a speech expressing his personal feelings for the friends who turned out to show support for his campaign.

"I've been working hard in 13 counties, and I'm getting a lot of support," he remarked. He said he'd received an endorsement from the 300 members of the Aurora Professional Police Officers' Association.

"But the friendships I have (with supporters) are more important than anything else," he declared.

The Lindenhurst resident noted that the fundraising event, held in his home township, was particularly special because it is his "home territory."

The judge, who has a reputation for educating the public about the court's role, said he wants people to understand that the judicial candidates on the ballot are as important as the legislative ones.

McKoski, running as a Republican, was first appointed to his 19th Circuit Court post in December 1991. He was elected in November 1992, and served as Chief Judge from 1996-98.

Prior to his appointment, he was an associate judge from 1985-91.

His present post is not up for a retention vote until November 2004.

Township pays $5,200 to replace four trees

Rather than invite a lengthy argument, Grant Township trustees voted to reimburse the Fox Lake Fire Protection District for four dead trees at south Grant Fire Station, Molitor Road.

The payment of $5,200 included a letter releasing the township from further liability.

"Pretty expensive trees," groused one trustee.

Fire District officials blamed the township for loss of the trees in connection with construction work for the Field of Dreams recreation area and the new township administration center.

tion center.

Trustee Richard Stueber said land on which the fire station is located is low. Excessive moisture could have contributed to the loss of the trees.

The approximate three acres on which the fire station is located originally was acquired from the township for $1. The district provides for fire protection in the Fox Lake/Ingleside area through a contract with the Fox Lake Fire Dept.

"It's behind us now," declared Supervisor Gordon Kiesgen.

Discovery Museum displays landscapes of Lake County

A unique collection of black and white photographs by local artist Ron Stein titled Landscapes of Lake County, is on display now through Nov. 29, at the Lake County Discovery Museum near Wauconda.

Stein's work is inspired by the expressive black and white print works of Ansel Adams, Edward Weston, John Sexton, and Howard Bond. Primarily self-taught, Stein has been taking pictures since 1994, shooting black and white photography with a four-by-five view camera. Stein's primary interest lies in landscape photography. He seeks out interesting images in areas like the Chicago Botanical Gardens, the Lake County Forest Preserves and the Appalachian Trail.

Stein also meets regularly with other local photographers who share their black and white print work, provide professional reviews, and discuss current topics, new ideas and challenges.

While at the Discovery Museum, visitors can also enjoy all new, interactive exhibits including the Lake County Mall of History, the Vortex Roller Coaster Theater, and Bringing the World Home featuring the world's largest collection of postcards.

Gallery hours are 11 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Monday-Saturday, and 1-4:30 p.m. on Sunday. The Discovery Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve on Route 176, just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda. Charity seeks cars for shelter needs

Home of the Sparrow's Shelter needs donated cars.

Charity a victim of its success

Directors of Mano-A-Mano, a not-for-profit service organization serving the Hispanic community of Lake County and other minorities, are fighting bravely to keep the fledgling agency afloat financially. Approximately $6,000 per month is needed to keep the doors open.

Mano-A-Mano was organized a year ago through the impetus of Round Lake Park officials and a $100,000 Illinois First grant. The organization was an instant success, providing guidance for locating housing, finding jobs, leading newcomers to medical resources, teaching English, providing parenting advice, teaching computer skills, immigration processing, arranging GED preparation and operating an after-school club for youngsters.

Round Lake Park/Hainesville Police Chief Bruce Johnson, an ardent supporter, said Mano-A-Mano has run into financial problems because it has been successful in doing what it was organized to do—helping people. Money problems haven't resulted because of mismanagement. Just the opposite, Johnson explained. "Mano-A-Mano is managed very frugally."

Officials of Round Lake Beach threw a $6,000 lifeline. Johnson and Mano-A-Mano are knocking on doors seeking help. The agency has been designated a 501C3 charity so all donations are tax exempt. Without a doubt, there are many worthy charities in our locality, but Mano-A-Mano is extra worthy because of its initial successes and emergency needs.

Playing politics with security

Strident partisan politicking, absent in our nation's capitol since Sept. 11, is rearing its ugly head in the debate over airport security. The Senate voted unanimously to give the federal government control over the training of personnel and maintenance of airport security. Now the bill has been bogged down in the House.

Democrats are blaming Republican leadership for bottling up the bill. The measure calls for federal law enforcement officers to take over the screening of passengers and baggage at the nation's airports, a proposal supported by a majority of Americans, the airlines and airport workers.

What has got GOP leaders in a knot is the desire to keep screeners as private employees. All well and good. Privatization is a pillar of Republican principles. Unionization is a pillar of Democratic principles. Can the faint murmur of a compromise be heard?

The bill is the Aviation Security Act, S. 1447. To be sure, airport security is only one part of making flying safe from terrorism. We'd like to see action to make cockpits secure and putting air marshals aboard all flights.

Providing for a failsafe screening program, in our opinion, is a logical start and a step that must be taken. Let the politicians engage in their gamesmanship, but don't mess with airport security.

Fight to save small lake

Destruction of a small body of water, Redhead Lake, has been placed squarely in the lap of a big box retailer in an unprecedented action taken by a Lake County official. County Board Rep. Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingleside) has taken the lake case to the Illinois Protection Agency (EPA) and the Illinois Attorney General.

Surrounded by homes, Redhead Lake is a small, shallow body of water connected to the Chain O'Lakes. Carter maintains that a new Home Depot store is responsible for producing silt that has turned the lake into a marsh.

Carter is asking the state agencies to force owners of the store to improve water quality, construct stream bank and shore stabilization devices, remove non-native species, replace native vegetation, provide for stormwater runoff and remove exotic species like Eurasian Milfoil to improve water clarity and aquatic habitat.

That's a pretty big order. Carter has the support of residents who want to make pollution and destruction caused by Home Depot a test case. Typically, the EPA and the attorney general get involved with "large cases." Legal action taken by the attorney general to protect Lake Michigan from pollution comes to mind. A small lake's problems could turn out to be a big case. In today's world, there's no such thing as a small environmental problem.

VIEWPOINT

War hits home in prayerful way

America's worldwide war on terrorism is hitting home.

Over the weekend, police departments throughout Lake County began getting calls from worried citizens about receiving questionable substances in the mail. The anthrax scare is real, hopefully no more here than a scare.

Church secretaries added to their duties updating files on young men and women in the military reserves who might be called to active duty. Already close at hand are the names and addresses of families with loved ones in uniform. They are on prayer lists.

Lake County Sheriff Gary Del Re spent Tuesday presiding over a workshop on terrorism attended by local law enforcement officials. O'Hare-based airline employees residing in our community have gone on reduced schedules, or worse, have been furloughed. Local travel agencies are processing more trip cancellations than reservations. As always in war, some pay a greater price than others.

On the home front, the biggest change since Sept. 11 is how God and patriotism have become parts of daily life. Americans are praying and waving the flag.

Food for needy

Dr. Julie McLaughlin of Antioch, a chiropractor with offices in Lake Forest, and her patients are getting ready for their 14th annual food drive for the needy. Every year Dr. McLaughlin sets aside one day (this year Nov. 7) when patients receive her services at no charge if they bring a bag of groceries for the drive. All new patients that week can participate in the drive and receive a free consultation. This year's recipient will be the Grant Township Food Pantry in Ingleside. Dr. McLaughlin knows west Lake County since she used to reside in Fox Lake. A different agency is benefitted every year with 80 to 100 bags of food.

Fred's future

Close friends and backers of Fred Foreman see his installation as president of the Lake County Republican Federation as closing the chapter on his future in elective politics. As Federation president, he will focus on strengthening the GOP and raising campaign funds. As state's attorney, Foreman never lost an election. The Gurnee resident went on to serve as U.S. Attorney for the Chicago District, a high profile prosecutor's job and a stepping stone. During and after the Chicago position, Foreman regularly was linked with openings for high office. The right openings never developed and the Warren High graduate concentrated on his private practice with a prestige law firm. But you never know. Lt. Gov. Corinne Wood, a past Federation president, now is in a three-way race for the GOP nomination for governor.

Town disappearing

A pioneer Lake County community slowly is disappearing. State Sen. William E. Peterson (R-Long Grove) has changed his office address from Prairie View, 60069 to Buffalo Grove, 60089-2727. Peterson's street address will remain the same. Until Buffalo Grove began annexing aggressively more than 20 years ago, Prairie View remained a crossroads village with a store, a tavern, a post office, a cluster of houses and the office of Vernon Township. Not much of Prairie View remains now except memories.

Talking funding

Here's a complicated subject in which every taxpayer has a stake. Everything you've ever wanted to know about public school funding will be taken up Saturday, Oct. 27, at a day-long forum at Lake Zurich High School. Prominent educators and legislators will cover "Focus on School Funding" beginning at 9:30 a.m. There will be a $10 charge for a box lunch with registrations accepted at 540-4963. Moderators will be retired superintendents Dr. Darryl Dick of Wauconda and Dr. Don Gossett of Libertyville. The "meat" of the meeting will be provided by Regional Schools Supt. Ed Gonwa and Gary Ey, deputy superintendent of finance for the Illinois State Board of Education.

Thanks for noticing. The complimentary calls were appreciated from readers who noticed the writer's new photograph adorning this column. Actually, Maxine Schmid, my mother-in-law, deserves the credit. "You look too stern. You should be smiling," she admonished in handing over the photo above. OK, mom. I should have known that mothers-in-law keep close watch of the guy who married their daughter.

Tell my why—

It is always gratifying to run into people who say they read and enjoy the column. It is really surprising, and nice, when it comes from a complete stranger. Like Lorraine Hall, who lives in Lake Villa, who said, "I know you," and when I said that I didn't recognize her, she said, "You write that column that I read." And, lately, some have said that I should continue spacing the "Tell Me Why" item into the column. So—

Tell me why—

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Promising trio picked for Democratic ballot

With three prominent candidates slated for the 2002 election, State Sen. Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills), county Democratic chief, is going beyond the usual "fill-in-the-blanks" ritual.

With good reason, Link can look with promise upon the candidacies of Kathy Ryg for state representative in the 59th District now represented by Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest); Patrick Patt for County Clerk and Dr. Patricia Pickles for Regional Superintendent of Schools.

Ryg, former village clerk of Vernon Hills and currently chief deputy in the Recorder of Deeds office, unquestionably will be rated a strong candidate in the new, mostly Democratic district no matter who the Republicans nominate. Democrats who are drawing the redistrict map this time around are fashioning a district covering Vernon Hills and part of Libertyville that will favor one of their own.

Although all of his experience in public life has been in education, Patt has the reputation for speaking out on controversial issues. His job will be retiring incumbent Republican clerk Willard Helander, who had thorny relations with both Democrats and the GOP alike. Patt is the retired superintendent of Oak Grove Elementary School in Libertyville's Township. He resides in Green Oaks.

Gender won't be an issue in the race where Pickles will face Roycelee Woods, currently No. 2 in the regional schools office. In an interesting coincidence, both Pickles and Woods have strong ties in North Chicago where the Democratic candidate serves as unit district superintendent and Woods was a long-time administrator before taking a county post.

The Democrats reverted to form in slating two unknowns for Congress, Melissa Bean in the 8th District of west Lake County, northwest Cook County and part of McHenry County, and Henry H. Parritt Jr., 56, of Glencoe, in the North Shore 10th. Parritt is a college professor with a hybrid background. He was a Republican at one time and served in a governmental post during the first Bush administration.

Garrett for Senate

In a made-to-order district, Susan Garrett, who announced her candidacy last Monday at a Bannockburn shopping center for a newly created Senate district, will be an early book favorite. The 29th Senate District includes all or part of Deerfield, Glencoe, Northbrook, Bannockburn, Highland Park, Highwood, Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, Riverwoods, Des Plaines, Glenview, Mount Prospect, Niles, Park Ridge and Prospect Heights.

Party for Bernie

Bernie Vitek, 82, former member of the Lake County Board of Review, will be honored at a luncheon reception, Wednesday, Nov. 7, from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. at the Grant Township Hall in Inglewood. After the Board of Review service, Vitek served as a deputy Grant Township assessor for 10 years. Previously he was assessor of Lake Villa Township. He officially retired Oct. 16.

Topinka to speak

The Women's Republican Club of the 10th Congressional District will feature Illinois State Treasurer Judy Barr Topinka at a luncheon on Tuesday, Oct. 30, at the Sunset Ridge Country Club, 2100 Sunset Ridge Road., Northfield. Social hour begins at 11:30 a.m., luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Topinka will discuss the effects of new redistricting maps, college tuition plans, loans for families of military personnel and financial decisions for women. Cost is $25 per person payable to WRC of the 10th Congressional District of Illinois. Reservations are needed by Oct. 24. For more information call Suzy Rauch at 446-6518 or Margaret Parcells at 446-0845.

Fete three judges

Zion and Benton Republican committees are having a fund-raiser Saturday, Oct. 20 from 4-7 p.m. at the North Point Marina restaurant, The Tropics. Three Lake County judicial candidates, Mary Schostok, Christopher Starck and James K. Booras, will be honored. Congressman Mark Kirk will be the guest keynote speaker. He will be sharing his experiences of being in the Pentagon a few minutes before the attack on America was made. Call Guy Garrison at 872-5402 or Ron Colangelo at 746-7139 for information.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Have a baby

In past wars Americans have risen to the occasion.

In the Revolutionary War, Paul Revere used his healthy set of lungs. At the Alamo, Davey Crockett used the last of his ammunition in a valiant stand. In World War II, Rosie riveted.

But the war against terrorism is a different type of war, a war we've been told could last 10 years and take the lives of thousands of Americans.

So, how can we, as citizens, do our part in this new war? Rudy Giuliani would have us "shop 'til we drop." Wall Street wants us to open our wallets to buy stock. The Red Cross wants our blood.

Bring a new American into this world. A civilization cannot long endure without a significant portion of its population propagating. So what can you and your spouse do for your country? Be patriotic: Have a baby.

Where to build

Funny, what Californians used to say before the summer of 2001 about the power outages. Yeah, but it can't happen here. Can it? The answer is yes, it can and eventually it will happen here. We are all guilty of using electricity with a thirst that is never quenched. We give little thought to how, or where, that electricity is produced, and most of us do not care as long as the light comes on when we flip the switch.

Hold on a minute, just because I am partly responsible for the increased demand for electricity does not mean that a power plant should be built in the middle of our bedroom community. The plant will affect the value of our homes and will further pollute my local environment.

No, a power plant like that should be built out in the country, far away from my home so it does not affect my way of life. I don't care if it affects the people who live out in the country. The homes out there are so far apart anyway, why would they care?

Send dollars, not goods

We are expending a lot of humanitarian effort to deliver food and medicine to the Afghanistan refugees. Does this make us popular with the Pakistani merchants who sell those products? May some of the people suspect the purity of the goods we send them? Is it possible someone along the way may tamper with those goods?

There seems to me to be a better solution. We call it welfare in this country. Send them dollars—real American dollars, currency, greenbacks. The merchants will be falling all over themselves to get the dollars. They will be happy.

The people there will be able to buy what they need, and they will make the decision as to what they need. The food and medicine will flow to the dollars. We will save the cost of transport, the fear that it will fall into the wrong hands or that it will be tampered with or rot. The refugees will have the dignity of buying what they want. You can bet that they and all those up the money chain will know from whence those greenbacks came.

Ego satisfaction, not bright

Removal of Raine Ray from the Fremont Township Plan Commission to satisfy an ego and vendetta probably was not the brightest political move that Pete Tekampe has made, but no one has ever suggested that he is a Rhodes Scholar or Mensa candidate.

One can only wonder if Tekampe feels threatened. The truth of the matter is, the supervisor has every right to appoint whomever he wishes to the Plan Commission with the consent of the board.

His colleagues on the board, along with Mr. Sullivan, who chose to join the discussion, should have advised him that the Plan Commission is really just an advisory board and why create an adversarial climate? Extend the olive branch recognizing the good that has been done for the township and get on with business.

The Plan Commission should represent the diverse interests of Fremont Township and not be a rubber stamp for the personal agenda of Tekampe. The true issue should be who will do the best job for the residents of Fremont Township.

One would only wonder, given Tekampe's personal agenda, what next—disbandment of the Open-Space Committee? It is no secret that Tekampe is no friend of open space.

Marathon runners a gutsy gang

That old catchphrase, "the loneliness of the long distance runner," no longer is applicable, at least not on race days.

Thirty-two thousand foot-racers showed up for the annual Chicago Marathon on Oct. 7, ready to run shoulder-to-shoulder and Nikes to Reeboks.

And, amazingly, more than 28,000 completed the 26.2-mile celebration of masochism. The men's winner was Ben Kimondiu of Kenya, in 2 hours and 8 minutes. He took home $95,000 which will buy a lot of barbecued goat meat, that African land's national dish.

Catherine Ndereba, also from Kenya, set a world record for women, 2 hours and 18 minutes.

The very top places, as usual, went to professional marathoners from lands where self-punishment in sports is still in vogue, such as Kenya, which doesn't have Little League baseball, just running.

With runners from all over the planet flocking to Chicago each October, it has become the third biggest marathon in the world, after New York and Berlin.

The Lake County entrants this year, some 250 men and 170 women, were mostly amateur runners in their 20s and 30s. Leading the local pack was David Engelke of Highland Park, 234th among the men in 2 hours and 46 minutes, and Jennifer Wines of Lake Forest, first among the women with a time of 3 hours and 28 minutes.

THE PFARR CORNER

Those who ran the course in 3 hours and 30 minutes, or faster, ranked among the top 8 percent of the field. They included five runners from Gurnee: Andrej Tomic, Rodger Sykes, Todd Gothberg, Michael Terry and Donald Dodd; Grayslake: John Kiser and Bill Zeck; and Lake Forest: Tom Moutvic and Scott Renken.

Also, Loren Masuoka of Great Lakes, Guillermo Marin of Lindenhurst, Larry Hall of Lake Bluff, Kevin O'Neil of Lincolnshire, Dan Ewan of Lake Zurich, Raymond Ross of Highland Park, John Horan of Wauconda and Christopher Moore of Libertyville.

Women from Lake County finishing in the elite 8 percent included Amy Haney of Liber-tyville, Aracely "Sally" Mouradian of Antioch, Julie Pfeffer of Highland Park, Kristin Hoch of Lake Bluff and Mary Beth O'Donnell of Deerfield.

It all began in 490 B.C. with a Greek named Pheidippides. The Persians were invading Greece and their armies met on the plain of Marathon, about 26 miles from Athens. The Greeks were outnumbered in the battle but scored a big upset. They kicked some Persian pants.

Unable to find a phone booth back then, or e-mail, the Greek general sent his swiftest runner, Pheidippides, to carry news of the victory to Athens. He reached the city and gasped, "Rejoice, we conquer," then fell dead, a war casualty, an overworked two-legged telegram.

When the ancient Olympic Games were revived in 1896, and held in Athens, a 26.2-mile footrace was included and called the marathon.

One current competitor told me, "Distance running keeps you in shape, feeling good about yourself. As for the pain, you know that the more work you put in the month before the race, the less you will suffer."

A woman marathoner says she runs "pretty much for fitness, but I also find a lot of peace in running. That's where I find I can talk to God."

Time For A Breast Cancer Screening

In support of National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the hospitals of Vista Health will offer screening mammograms at a reduced cost during the month of October. The special cost is just $65 plus the radiologist interpretation fee. The national Cancer Institute advises that women in their 40's and older have an annual mammogram. Women at high risk for breast cancer because of their personal or family history may need to begin screening earlier. Screening mammograms are designed for women who have had no history of breast abnormality. Women who have experienced breast problems in the past require diagnostic mammograms at a higher cost. Women do not need a doctor's order to schedule a mammogram. Screening mammograms are available at three Vista Health locations. Appointment can be made for any location by calling the number listed. Provena Saint Therese Medical Center, Waukegan, 360-2020; Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan, 360-4184; Vista Surgery and Treatment Center, Lindenhurst, 356-4700. Forgotten homework assignments can be much more than a learning problem!

Hi Dr. Singer,

We have our son enrolled in a learning program that we like very much for some reasons. The only problem is that although we have been enrolled for almost a year now, many of the original symptoms we came for have not gone away. These are things like our child not handling in homework, forgetting assignments, not studying for tests more than a few minutes. We are having to do his homework with him on a regular basis. While we like some of the material the program uses, we wondered if something might be being missed here since symptoms are still existing. How do we know? Y.T.

Hi Y.T.

I will give you my thoughts, but since I don't know what style of learning program you are in, I cannot be specific with you about what is exactly occurring there. Also, I cannot speak to what other companies do with learning skills. I can only speak to what I know and what I do. With that said, I will focus on 3 areas: Is the program targeted to what the child's needs really are? Does the program look at more than just learning? Is what you are seeing in your child truly a learning problem or a problem of bad habits?

Regarding the targeting of a program to a symptom, you must distinguish what type of problem your child is having. Is it something that requires processing help, learning/academic help or tutoring help. These are 3 very different approaches that can be seen as layers. The foundation layer is processing. This is what I work with. That would be issues like memory, multi-tasking or the ability to handle multiple levels of information at once, focus and concentration, auditory and visual processing, and processing speed. Without this foundation level working correctly, targeting learning or academic skills alone will, more than likely, have much less success. Learning/academic skills would be the next level up and that would be things like Math, Reading, Science, etc. These are usually dealt with in Learning Disability services or private services. Even further up the scale would be Tutoring. Tutoring could also help academic areas but can also help organizational skills too. Now, all 3 kinds of help are good, but if you start at the wrong place for your child, it can take longer and be less successful. For example, if your child has a processing problem with focus or memory, help with Math won't stick too well until his focus and memory have been corrected first. To find out the right place to start involves evaluating those weak skills to see exactly where the problem lies.

PARENT'S PLACE

There are many programs out there to choose from when it comes to a child's learning skills. Again, I cannot speak to what others do or do not do, but I can tell you that in a good 99% of the kids I see, things like forgetting homework, not studying and forgetting assignments are very common. I see a part of this as a processing issue and another part I view as behavioral patterns or defense mechanisms that get set up early on and become bad habits that continue unless targeted and stopped. Therefore, when I work with a child, we don't just look at processing or just look at learning skills. We look at and change all the layers of the child meaning, processing, behavior, and motivation. Human beings are multi-level beings, not one dimensional. My experience has told me that when you focus on one area at the expense of others, you will continue to see symptoms that grow stronger with time.

Let's talk about motivation for a second. Anyone who knows kids knows that they don't always want to do work laid out for them. They can be very creative at finding ways to get out of it. In the old days when a kid tried to get out of doing work by forgetting assignments, adults made the kid do the assignment for no credit and do some sort of punishment so it didn't happen again and it didn't happen again. Nowadays, adults search for a label to place on the kid and then use that label to help the kid do less work and have less expectations. Nothing ticks me off more than when I see this because when someone does that, he or she is robbing that child of his or her full capability and full future potential. I have worked with literally 100's of kids who started out forgetting assignments, not studying, not listening, etc. and when I got done with them and their parents, they were fully able to do those things on their own, so I know it can be done. I have no magic potion or spell that I cast. This is simple, down to earth, good sense that tells me that if you motivate kids the right way where the opposite choice doesn't look so good, they do the right thing every time. Kids don't do work for 2 reasons. First, they don't want to and/ or something is tough and they want to find someone else to do it for them or take it away from them. Adults that do that, hurt the child. Adults that help the child take it on, help the child. It's that simple.

When adults allow this getting out of work to continue for long periods of time, it becomes a bad habit and when it continues for long enough, it can become a way of life. It is always changeable, but it first takes a change in the philosophy of the adults in charge of the kid. Then it takes consistent training of the opposite to get these kids to do what they have to do.

If you are still seeing symptoms after a year of working with this group, I would tell you to either put it to them that you want to see some results or you need to look further. Your child clearly has some behavioral patterns working against him and you need to be in treatment that addresses those as well. Be careful though. I believe that treatment that just has the child talk to someone is not indicated in the case of behavioral habits as you have described. Parents need to be worked with to learn strategies to change the habits and motivate this child correctly so he can do what is required of him without constant supervision. If you do decide to stay with the program you are in, I can help you with the behavioral part in tandem with what you are doing there. It will, more than likely, make your experience there become more successful. Let me know if you want to do that.

You went to school already. You did your homework. You don't need to be doing it again. Learn how to motivate your child to do his own.

She regularly works in person with many readers of this column, helping them to significantly improve their kid's behavior and processing skills. New to Dr. Singer's practice is her very powerful "Tic Mark System of Behavior Improvement in Kids." This system has promoted unbelievably fast behavior change both at home and school with very little work from parents and teachers. Dr. Singer continues to help kids with improving focus and processing in her Total Success Program. For an appointment, please call (847) 577-8832 or (708) 962-2549.

It's never too late to prevent osteoporosis

Calcium - a key element in the fight

Osteoporosis, a chronic disease that results in the deterioration of bone mineral density, affects nearly 28 million Americans -- 2 million of which are men. Despite these staggering numbers, this disease is often preventable.

Though osteoporosis has been thought of as a disease that affects mostly women, 5-6 million men are at risk of developing this disease each year and the risks increase with age. This year alone 80,000 men will suffer from hip fractures and one-third of these men will die within a year. It has also been estimated that direct and indirect costs associated with osteoporosis are $12-14 billion annually.

The leading causes of osteoporosis in men are:

- Heavy use of alcohol
- Steroid usage
- Hypogonadism (loss of male hormone)

Additional causes of osteoporosis (in both men and women) include:

- Genetics/family history
- Lack of weight-bearing exercises
- Smoking
- Inadequate calcium intake throughout life

Your Prescription Medication is Not Enough

With such alarming numbers, the National Institutes of Health and the National Osteoporosis Foundation have recommended that treatment of osteoporosis with any drug therapy also requires sufficient calcium and vitamin D to achieve optimal benefits. Studies have shown that you can triple your medication's bone-building benefits if you get the recommended 1,200 milligrams of calcium and 400 IU of vitamin D daily. But, according to a recent survey, only 30 percent of women are taking calcium and vitamin D with their osteoporosis medication.

According to national studies, we are not getting enough calcium in our daily diet. While foods such as milk, broccoli, kale, beans and cheese are primary sources of calcium, large quantities of these foods would need to be eaten in order to get the right amount of calcium. A single serving of dairy provides only about 300 mg of calcium and up to 100 IU of vitamin D.

Because the average woman only gets about half the recommended daily requirement of calcium through her diet, patients who are on therapy for osteoporosis need a calcium and vitamin D supplement. "It's generally acknowledged that we don't get enough calcium through our diet, so it's a good idea for most adults, particularly those patients on osteoporosis therapy or at risk for osteoporosis, to take a calcium supplement such as Citracal + D," advises Dr. Miriam Nelson, associate professor of Nutrition and director of the Center for Physical Fitness at the School of Nutrition Science and Policy at Tufts University, and author of "Strong Women, Strong Bones."

Choosing a Supplement That's Right for You

Research has determined that different types of calcium supplement formulations (carbonate, phosphate and citrate) are absorbed in different ways by the body. The most widely available over-the-counter calcium supplements are formulated primarily from calcium carbonate, which is relatively insoluble.

Though calcium carbonate usually contains the highest concentration of calcium by weight, a study published in The Journal of Clinical Pharmacology shows that calcium carbonate is not readily available to the body. A study conducted by Howard J. Heller, M.D., assistant professor, Center for Mineral Metabolism and Clinical Research at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center at Dallas, indicates that the tablet formulation of calcium citrate in the form of Citracal was more bioavailable than calcium carbonate in the form of Os-Cal, even when given with a meal.

Dr. Nelson explains, "Calcium citrate does not require stomach acids for absorption as does calcium carbonate. This is an added benefit for older women who do not produce much stomach acid between meals. When combining the ease of absorption when taken with or without a meal and the vital Vitamin D component by which calcium turns into bone, calcium citrate supplements such as Citracal + D are a simple way to maintain the bone mass you've built."

Here are Some Tips to Prevent Osteoporosis:

- Eat calcium-rich foods, such as dairy, broccoli, kale, and beans
- Moderate your intake of alcohol
- Don't use steroids
- If you smoke, quit
- Take a daily ten-minute walk as a form of weight-bearing exercise

Is it time to start buying Bears playoff tickets? It may be too soon to say, but one thing's for sure, Chicago is playing much better this year.

I can't remember the last time both the Packers AND Bears had only one loss each this late in the season. During the Bears glory days, the Packers were horrible. Even when the Pack played a good game, the Ditka-led Bears would bring in Kevin Butler and steal the game at the end.

Then, during the 90's when Green Bay found their groove, Chicago went down hill. It seemed that sports greatest rivalry had a dark cloud over it, tainting what used to be a classic match-up into battles of David vs. Goliath.

This is the year all that will end, as the battles between Green Bay and Chicago will be less for bragging rights and more for a division championship.

As far as fantasy goes, however, the Packers are, hands down, the better team. Brett Favre is once again a top-three quarterback and Ahman Green was the NFL's leading rusher the first three weeks of the season, before facing Tampa and Baltimore's top ranking defenses. Bill Schroeder and Antonio Freeman each have topped 100 yards receiving and scored more than one touchdown in numerous games the past couple of seasons.

The Bears have a couple of okay wide-outs in Marcus Robinson and Marty Booker. Jim Miller is a good quarterback, but a little inconsistent for fantasy purposes. And the Chicago running game is starting to look like a two-headed monster with James Allen and rookie Anthony Thomas splitting the carries. Basically, the Bears are winning as a team and with their defense, not with offensive star power.

Get those entries in for the November contest. You have till Halloween and no later. Good luck.

Illinois conservation funding locally exceeds $500,000

State funding into regional partnerships for conservation in Lake and McHenry counties totals $500,862.

"Local citizens and private property owners working together are the keys to the success of Conservation 2000," Gov. George Ryan said. "These grants, combined with local matching funds and other support, provide important land management, habitat enhancement, and resource conservation projects in watersheds throughout Illinois."

Grant recipients of Lake and McHenry counties and their objectives are:

Chicago Wilderness

The Nature Conservancy, $39,040. Exploring Concepts of Watershed. Funding will be used for the development of outreach/educational materials and for the position of Outreach Coordinator.

Chicago Wilderness, $20,000. Chicago Wilderness Mighty Acorns Program: A Self Sustaining Future. The goal of the Mighty Acorns program is to introduce young people to nature.

Dennis Dreher, $90,000. Northeastern Illinois Natural Resources Outreach and Technical Assistance. NIPC to promote improved planning, protection, acquisition, and restoration practices that better conserve terrestrial and aquatic resources.

Fox River Partnership

McHenry County Conservation District, $81,100. Nippersink Creek Restoration. This project will provide increased floodwater storage capacity, improved surface water quality, and enhance canoeing and fishing benefits to users.

Fox River Ecosystems Partnership (FREP), $72,000. Marketing the Integrated Management Plan for the Fox River Watershed in Illinois. The multi-staged plan for FREP includes: enhanced communications through a quarterly newsletter, distribution of educational materials and maintenance of a comprehensive and interactive FREP web site.

Fox Valley Park District, $17,089. Native Plant Shoreline Stabilization. Native species that have been identified by IDNR studies that are compatible to urban areas along the banks of the Fox River will be reintroduced.

McHenry County Defenders, $20,457. Ecotourism to Protect Natural Resources. To market ecotourism activities, a brochure, descriptive map and web site to promote recreational and restoration activities which are non-invasive and educational.

North Branch Chicago River

Illinois Institute of Technology, $34,270. A Water Quality Model for the Chicago River. Collect, inventory and organize available data including digital maps and flow data and water quality data. This data will be used to simulate the biological, chemical, and physical reactions that determine water quality.

Park District of Highland Park, $28,000. Fink Pond Enhancement. Funds will be used for interpretive signs and environmental education development, boardwalk, project management, plantings, storm water re-direction, and outlet control structure.

Abbott Laboratories, $15,056. Riparian Restoration Aids Endangered Orchid and Reduces Site Erodibility. Funds will be used to clear woody brush and selected trees, herbicide stumps, stabilize any barren ground with short-lived native vegetation, hand pollinate orchids and distribute a portion of orchid seed.

Upper Des Plaines River

Max McGraw Wildlife Foundation, $28,850. NE IL E/T Fish Species Recovery Project. Information on the distributions of banded killfish, blackchin shiner, blacknose shiner and pugnose shiner will be gathered and summarized.

Liberty Prairie Conservancy, $15,000. Water Quality Component for the Bull Creek Watershed Implementation Plan. Working with local stakeholders in the watershed, the project will come up with a set of recommendations with respect to biodiversity and water quality.

Storm Water Management Comm., $40,000. Multi-objective Storm Water Management Along Mill Creek. This study will identify opportunity sites for multi-objective, environmentally friendly floodwater storage sites in the Mill Creek subwatershed of the Des Plaines River.

CLC NOTEBOOK

The College of Lake County men's golf team concluded its season. However, Kurt Kubicek will represent CLC at the National Junior College Tournament in Phoenix, Ariz. Next spring.

Kubicek qualified by finishing in the top-10 at the regional held at Prairie View Golf Course. Kubicek shot 79 in the first day of the two-day, 36-hole tournament. The conditions the second day however, were less favorable.

"The weather was not very conducive to our style of play," said Coach Larry Leon.

Kubicek however, stayed relatively close to his previous day score, carding an 84.

"He shot a strong 79 on Friday and I think he would have been in the 70s again on Saturday but the winds picked up," said Leon.

The cut-off score for nationals was 163.

According to Leon, the strengths in Kubicek's game lie inside the 150-yard marker, and on the putting green. Kubicek averaged an 18-hole score of 82 on the season due to his consistency in those areas.

"I just kind of got my swing together and hit a lot of greens and a lot of fairways," said Kubicek.

Kubicek believes that this is one of the major accomplishments of his young life, however is bittersweet about being the only Lancer to qualify for the national tournament.

"This is probably my biggest accomplishment in sports," said Kubicek. "I just really wanted my teammates to come with me."

Tim Jankowski just missed qualifying, shooting a 164 for the two rounds.

"He's sort of been our leader all year," said Leon. "It's too bad that he missed by one stroke."

No. 2 golfer on the team, Eric Palmblad, also finished the season strong coming within three strokes of nationals.

Nonetheless, Leon is happy to see a golfer attend the national tournament.

"He qualified and we're happy about that," said Leon. "He should be able to do well at nationals because he keeps the ball in play. I think he has a good shot at being competitive, he understands the game really well."

Last week at an end of the season meeting, Kubicek was voted Most Improved Player. Jankowski was voted Most Valuable Player. All awards were selected by the team and will be presented at the fall sports banquet on November 7.

The Lancers wrapped up conference play finishing with 17 points in the conference. Points are given by finish at each of the five individual conference tournaments. Five points for first place, four points for second place, and so on.

Waubensee swept through the conference and the regional taking first-place at all five conference meets for a total of 25 points. They won the regional by one stroke over Illinois Valley.

The team averaged solid scores for the year. Jankowski led the way, averaging a 79. Palmblad was second (81), Kubicek finished third (82), Justin Uhl was fourth (86). Dan Hesley also finished with an 86.

"This team from this year has a lot of togetherness," said Leon. "They exhibited the philosophy 'all for one, and one for all.'"

"My teammates are the coolest bunch of guys in sports," said Kubicek.

The other influence upon Kubicek was that of his coach, Larry Leon.

"He (Leon) he has a ton of confidence in me and in the team," said Kubicek. "He's a really great guy."

In the time between now and nationals, held on May 20 through May 24, 2002, Kubicek will be getting his name out to as many colleges and universities as he can.

"I'm just going to be letting colleges know I'll be competing down there at nationals," said Kubicek.

Where will Kubicek decide to go?

"I'm not a picky guy," he said Kubicek. "I'd just like to play some place for free." —Joe Pruski

Lady Lancer soccer cookin'

The 2001 women's soccer campaign began with many uncertainties.

Who would fill the void that was left when all but four players from last year's second-in-state team transferred out? The answer to that question was simple—the 13 freshmen that entered the program this season.

The four sophomores and 13 freshmen have gelled together to form the second ranked team in the state and the 14th ranked team in the National Junior College Athletic Association national poll.

Solid defense and a spread scoring attack have been the keys to one of the best seasons in the CLC women's soccer history.

"The defense in my mind is the engine that drives our team," said head coach Dave Beck. "We preach that everyone on the team play good defense."

The numbers back up Beck's statement with the team recording eight shutouts, to go with goals allowed per game average of less than one. For the year CLC has outscored their opponents 52-14.

On offense, 10 players have scored in this season.

"We're dangerous from a lot of different places on the field," said Beck. "A lot of different people can score."

Included is Nicki Sowizdrzal and Joelle Thompson. Sowizdrzal is the teams leading scorer with 15 goals, while Thompson has contributed nine. The two of them have also contributed a total of 13 assists combined.

With a current record of 14-3 and a 6-0 sweep through conference, CLC has proven to be one of the best teams ever at the Grayslake school.

"We've accomplished our three goals already this season," said Beck. "I'd be lying to you if I said we didn't want to be state champions though."

In this situation, Beck feels as if the younger team is benefit going into the post season.

"It might be an advantage being young," said Beck. "Last year we had more sophomores and they had a lot of pressure on them, this year they can just go out and play."

Beck is very optimistic about the chances of his young team this season.

"I think it's as good a chance as any (this season)," said Beck. "We're healthier than we have been in the past, and were more focused. I'm very hopeful."

According to Beck, if there were a clearly defined leader on the team it would not come from on the field, but instead the sidelines, from assistant coach Becky Kirby. Kirby played for the Lancers in the 1997-98 season.

"If there is a defined leader on the team Becky may be that person," said Beck. "She gets along with the girls real well and helps them out tremendously."

CLC will begin their regional playoffs later this week. —Joe Pruski

Cross country

The CLC men's and women's cross country teams toed the line with some tough competition at the Millikin University Invitational.

On a rain-soaked, muddy 5-mile course, the Lancers top runner sparked. Co-captain Arturo Hernandez, a freshman and graduate of Highland Park High School, placed third in a field of 71 runners. His time of 26:30 was a new personal best.

Co-captain Hipolito Caballero, another freshman and former Giant, finished in 25th place with a personal-best time of 27:45. Freshman Tomas Luna, also from Highland Park, clocked in with a PB of 28:22, good for 39th place.

Meanwhile, captain Stephanie Hess led the women's team, competing on a 3.1-mile course. Hess, a sophomore and graduate of Grant High, ran an aggressive race, finishing 14th out of 76 with a time of 20:58. Karen Davidson, a freshman and former Bulldog as well, was 29th (22:06).

Both teams will compete at the Lake Forest College Meet Oct. 20. The race will be held at Half Day Forest Preserve.

Women's volleyball

The Lady Lancers lost another match but were able to defeat Morton 30-11, 27-30, 30-18, 30-16.

Jaime Knuth had nine kills, Michaline Sprovieri had eight kills and Julie Peters added 23 assists in the loss that dropped CLC's record to 4-20 on the season and 0-4 in the Skyway conference.

"Our offense ran well, given the chance, however, we didn't play defense," said head coach Georgette Miller. "We also lost several points to poor serving."

Men's soccer

CLC inched closer to the .500 mark with a 3-2 win over Skyway-rival Moraine Valley. The win improved the Lancers' record to 6-8 and 3-5 in the Skyway conference.

Silvio Mejia had a goal and an assist, Miguel Guzman and Casey Cybal each had a goal and Matt Deimler and Scott Lang each tallied an assist. —Rob Backus contributed to this report.

Fasten seat belts; it's showdown time for Carmel

Game with mighty Joliet Catholic will decide Catholic Metro White conference champ

By ROB BACKUS
Staff Reporter

It hasn't exactly been a storied history for Carmel in its matchup with Joliet Catholic.

The Corsairs are 1-21 all time against the Hilltoppers with that lone win coming way back in the 1972 season, 12-6.

"We've been close three times since then," said Carmel head coach Andy Bitto. "We're done being close, we're coming to win."

Despite the lop-sided history between the two teams, both coaches are quick to throw out past history.

"We don't even talk about last year," said Joliet Catholic head coach Dan Sharp, who was a junior on the Joliet Catholic team that lost to Carmel in 1972. "The past is the past."

Bitto echoes those sentiments. "We just have to worry about this year," said Bitto. "History goes out the window."

The matchup appears to be very close on paper.

Carmel likes to run, run and run with the option tandem of quarterback Matt Roe (87 carries, 560 yards, 15 TDs) and tailback Eric Luna (135 carries, 1,212 yards, 17 TDs).

Joliet Catholic has a dynamic duo of its own with running backs Jar. Zwierzynski, who surpassed Mike Alstott's career rushing record at Joliet Catholic, and Chris Gruber.

"Carmel has one of the top offenses in the state," said Sharp. "We haven't seen anyone that executes as well on offense."

With the running attacks taking center stage for both teams, the difference could come from the arms of the quarterbacks.

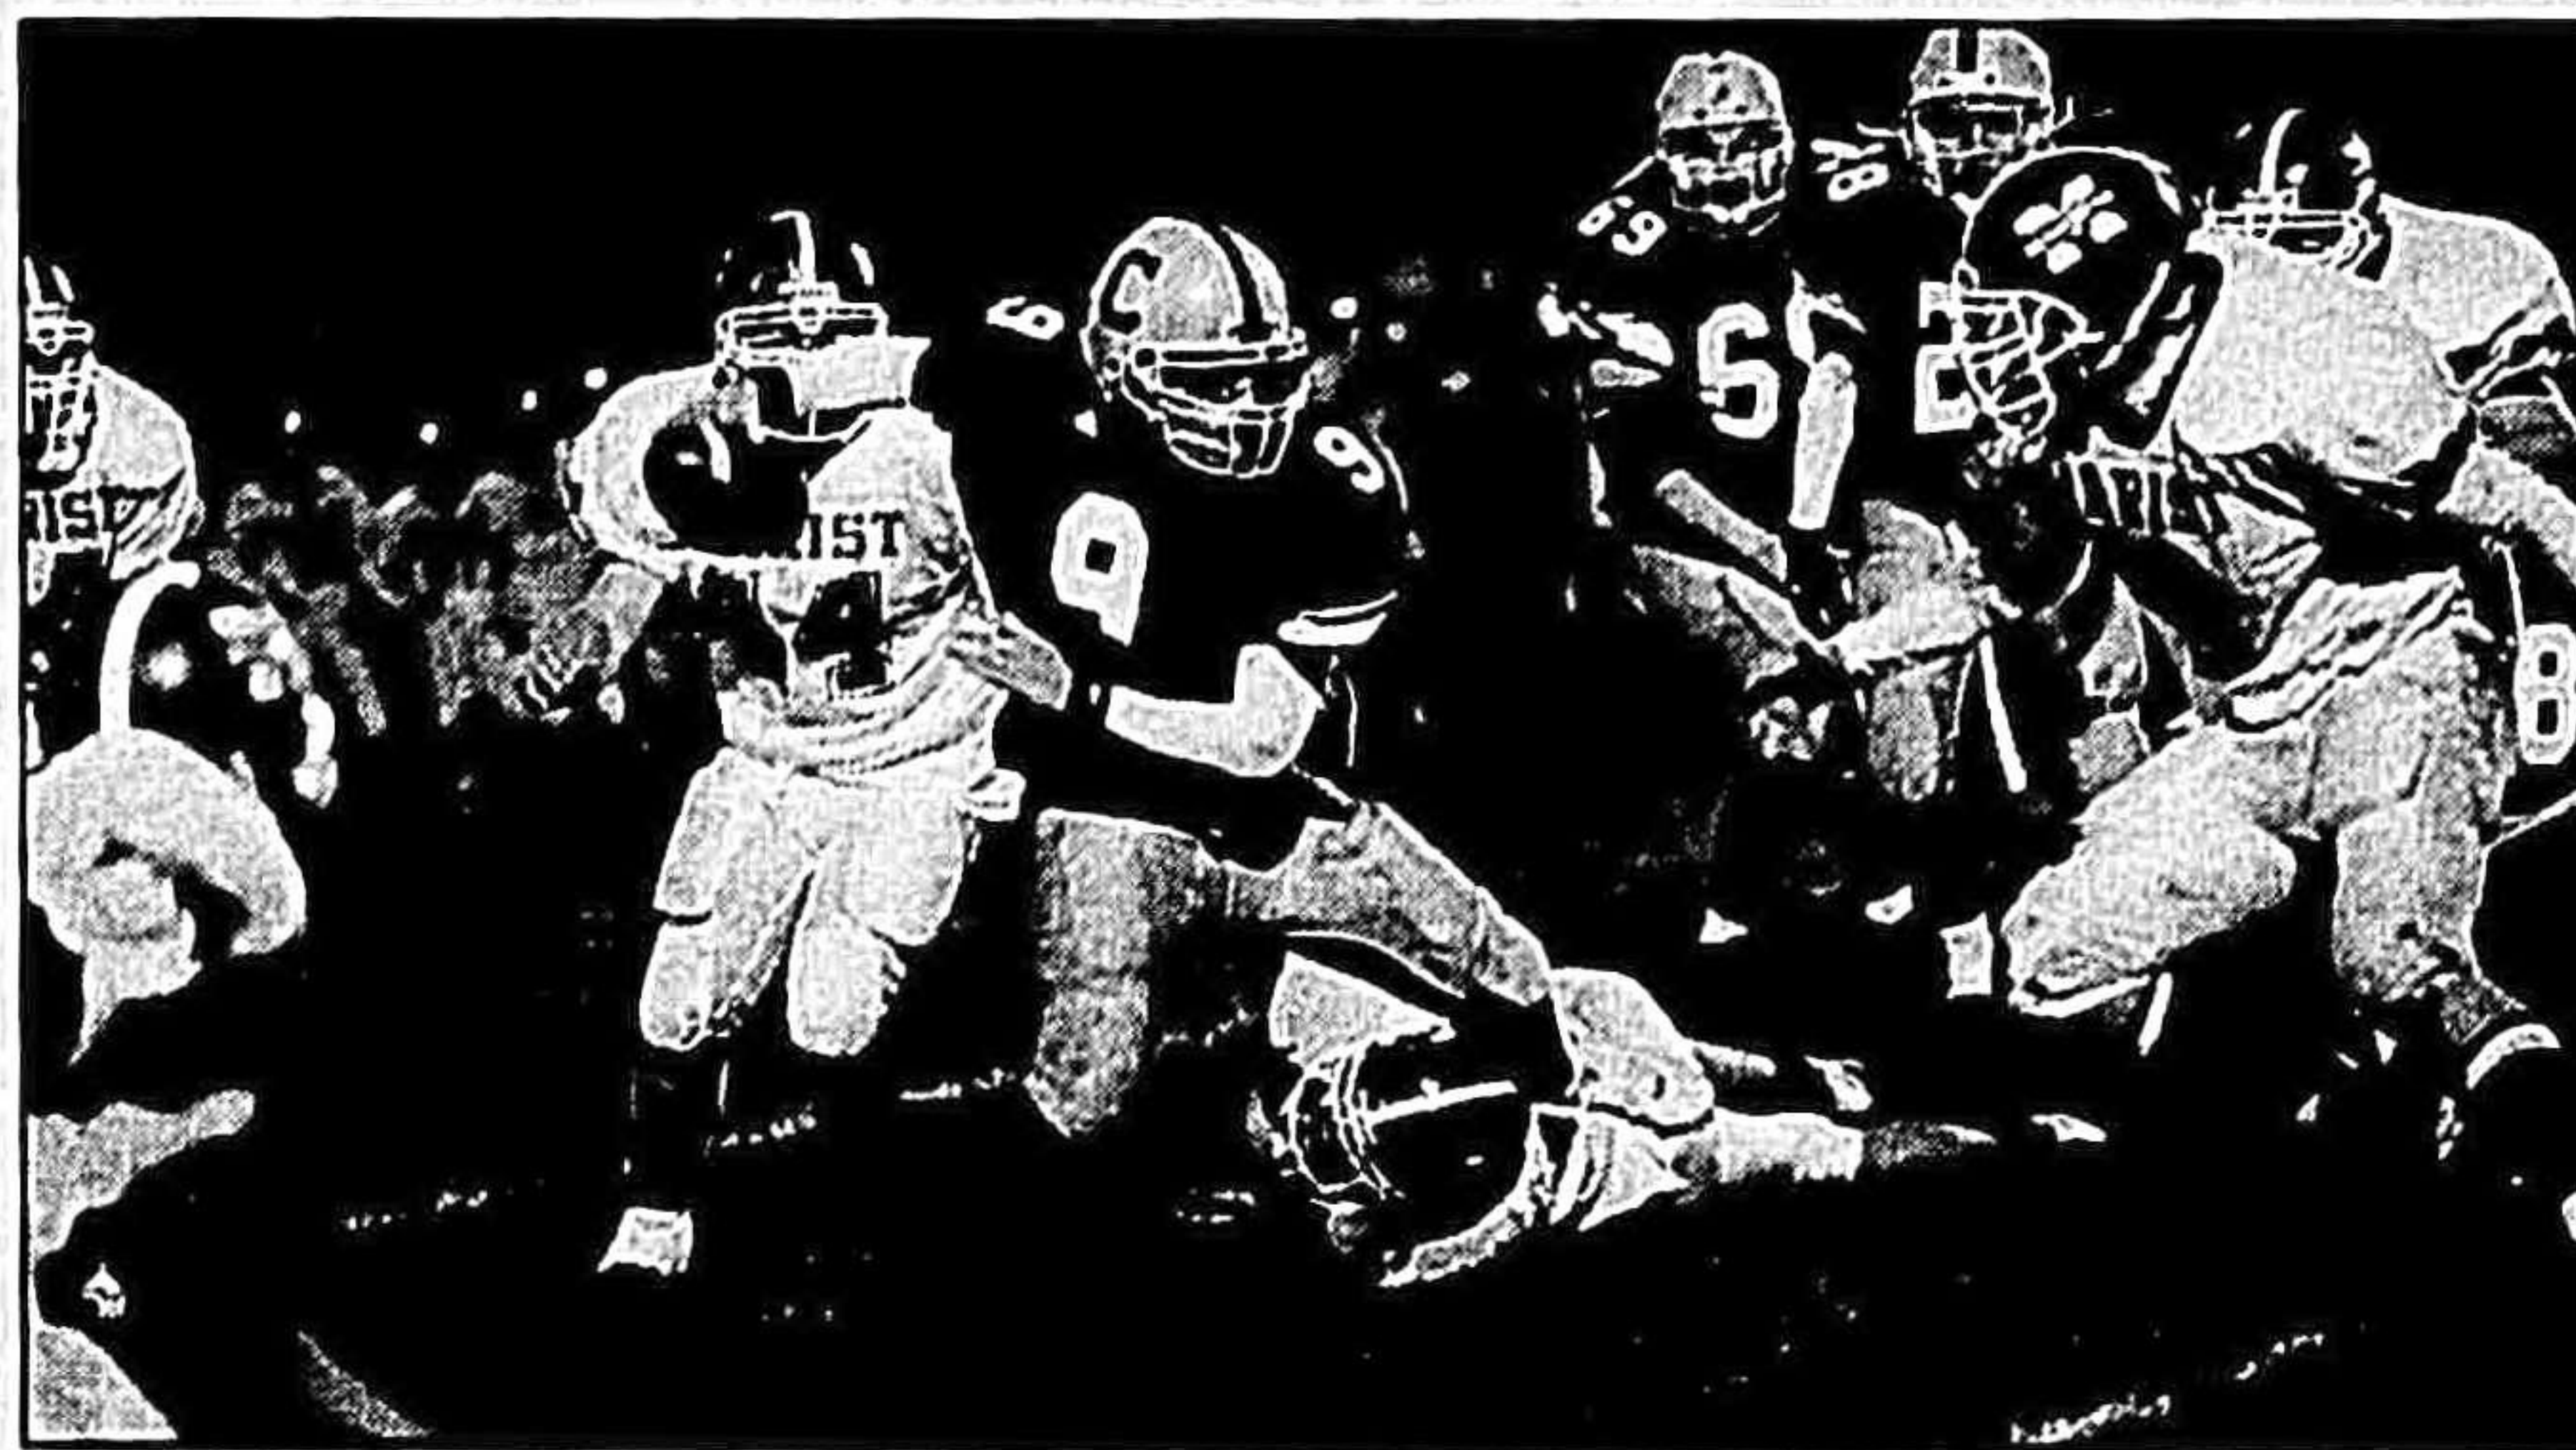

Carmel's Matt Roe is 39-74 for 639 yards and five TDs while the Hilltoppers sport out a strong pocket passer in Craig Tomasino (40-69, 800 yards, 10 TDs).

"Our passing attack will have a big effect on the game," said Bitto. "The threat of the throw will open up the running attack."

The difference of the game may also come down to whose defense can stop the other's offense.

Carmel's defense will be led by the line-backer play of Josh Bruening, Nathan Duprey and Sean Walker while linebacker Ryan Lincoln and defensive end Matt Matichak will lead Joliet Catholic's defense.

"Defense is our number one concern," said Sharp. "We'll have our work cut out for us against Carmel's offense."

Bitto will be relying on his defense to create opportunities for the offense.

"It will be a matter of which defense creates the most turnovers," said Bitto. "Whoever can create and capitalize on the most turnovers will win the game."

No matter which team comes out on top, it figures to be the game of the year, at least for a Lake County team.

"I told the kids, 'This is what you've worked for your whole life. If you're not excited about this, you're not alive.'"

Almost 10,000 fans are expected to attend the game at Joliet Memorial Stadium and Bitto would love for there to be at least 2,500 Carmel fans at the game.

"This is the game to go to," said Bitto.

The game will take place at Joliet Memorial Stadium in Joliet on Oct. 19. Kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m.

Directions to Joliet Stadium

County grieves for Lampi

The news of Mike Lampi Jr.'s death hit some members of Carmel High School varsity football team especially hard.

Players Bobby and Jim Magna, Josh Bruenning and Andrew Goshgarian all played football with Lampi at the Round Lake Area Park District, where varsity head coach and athletic director Andy Bitto last observed Lampi as a player.

"The last time I saw him play was when he was in eighth-grade," said Bitto. "But even back then he had real strong leadership qualities on the field."

Bitto also grew up with Lampi's father, Michael Sr., in Wildwood.

"It's a tragic event," said Bitto. "We all prayed for him after the game."

Libertyville varsity head coach Randy Kuceyeski offered some conciliatory words for Lampi's team and family.

"Our heart goes out to the team, its staff and his (Lampi's) family," said Kuceyeski. "I hope that they can pull through it."

Grant High School officials also sent their condolences to Lampi and the Panthers. Round Lake was playing Grant when Lampi was initially injured.

"I feel so bad. All our prayers go to the family," said bulldog coach Mark Barczak.

Cook County Coroner's Office said the cause of death was determined to be a ruptured spleen and compressed abdomen. The death is considered an accident, authorities said.

"It is such a sad thing. We think playing football is important, but this puts it in perspective. We were at an Athletes for Excellence meeting this morning when Vice Deluca, whose wife coaches at Round Lake, told us," said Vernon Hills quarterback Jason Newburger.

"We addressed it with the team before the game. It is such a tragedy. We will honor whatever they want to do for the game Friday," said Wauconda assistant Cory Kazimour.

"I have a lot of respect and have known the Round Lake coaching staff for a long time. What a tragedy," said Vernon Hills coach Tony Monken.

Monken said he has seen instances of players never playing again because of a spleen injury, but never a death.

"If anyone deserves a break with the playoffs, they do," he added.

Monken described the play as a freak play. "They are safer playing football than if they were out driving a car or fooling around," Monken said.

News of the tragedy also hit Grayslake High School.

"This is a big loss for the county, very sad and very tragic," said Ram Athletic Director Troy Harper. "Especially for an athlete to get hurt during competition. Our hearts go out to the school and family."

Grayslake Athletic Trainer Glen Gerdes shared the grief but also had high praise for the Grant athletic trainers, who were there to treat Lampi after he was hit.

"It's very unfortunate and kind of a freak accident," he said. "But the trainer (Mark Robson) at Grant were right there to offer the best possible quick care they could."—John Phelps, Steve Peterson and Rob Backus contributed to this report.

Tragedy hits home with Stillwell

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

The death of Round Lake's Mike Lampi brought back not-so-pleasant memories for Pat Stillwell.

"It's devastating—like living it all over again," said Stillwell near the conclusion of the Panthers practice Oct. 15.

Stillwell's son Bob was a former standout player for Round Lake in the mid-1980s. The 1987 graduate was killed in an automobile in 1996 at the age of 26. He played four years, both on offense and defense.

"I can totally relate to what Debbie (Mike Lampi's mom) is going through," said Stillwell. "My heart goes out to her and the entire family."

Following her son's death, the Stillwell family established a small scholarship fund in the amount of $1,000 for an aspiring Round Lake football player who intended on carrying his talents to the collegiate level.

Pat Stillwell said that they have given three scholarships since starting the fund five years ago.

But this year, the intended recipient may change.

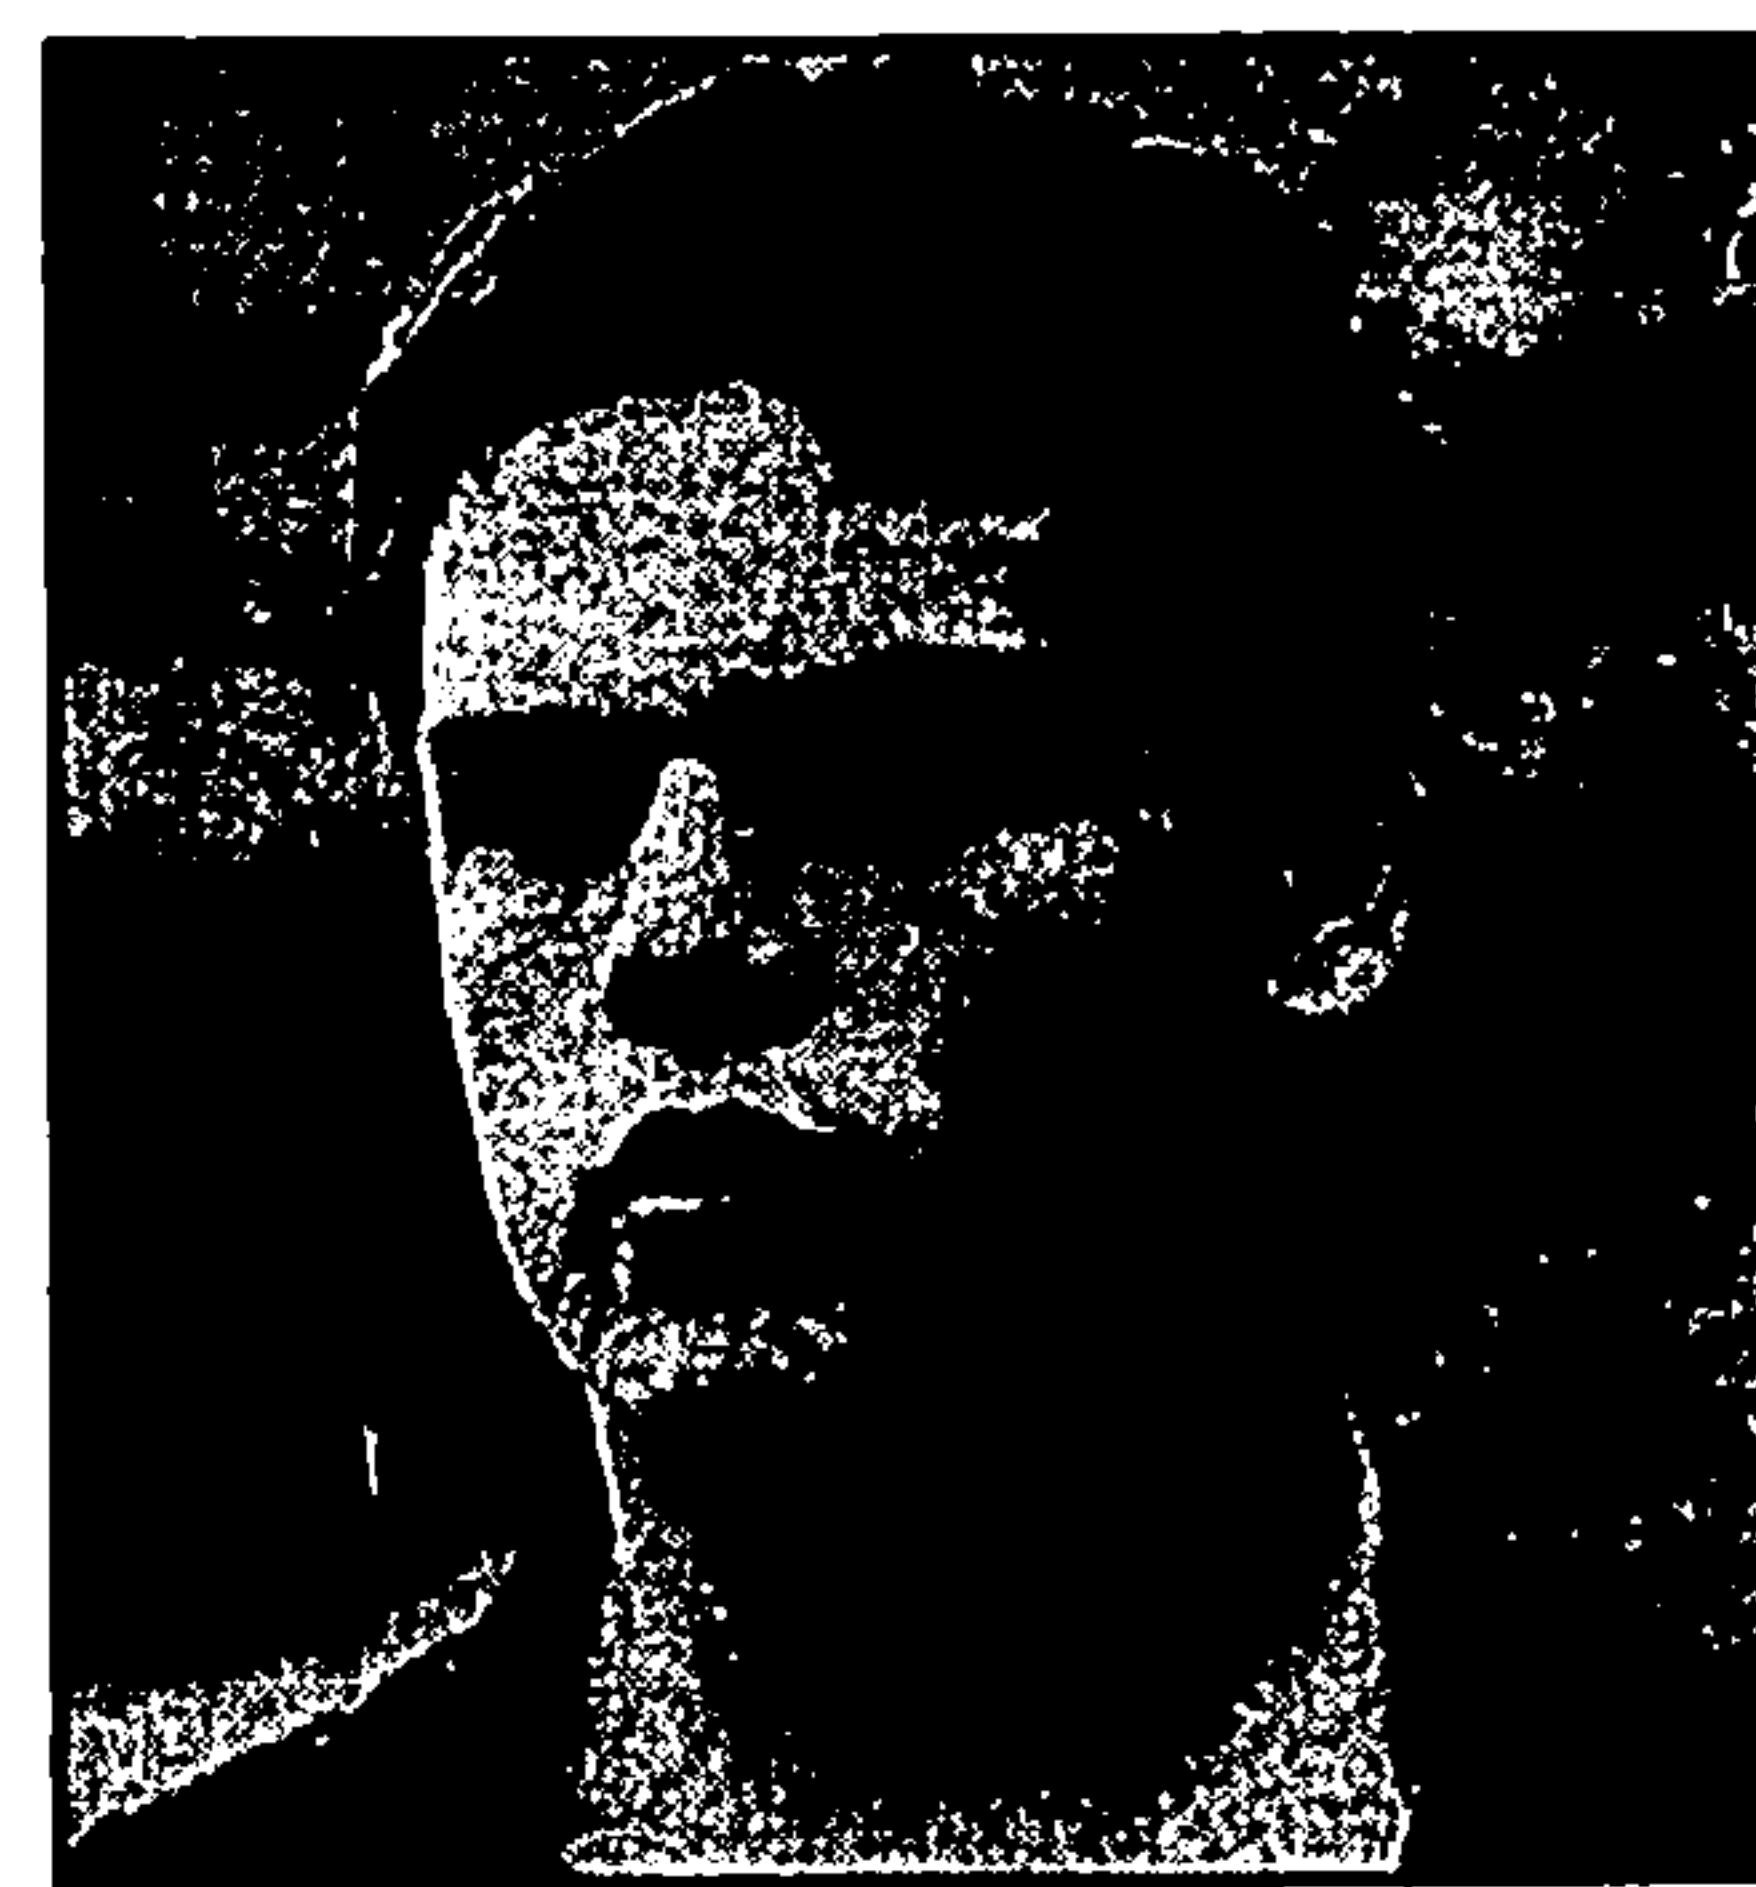

"I have a feeling that Debbie (Lampi) could use some of it for medical expenses," said Stillwell. "If she doesn't want it, we'll donate some equipment to the school in Mike's name."

Stillwell's granddaughter Megan is currently a freshman at Round Lake High School.

Dedications pour in for Lampi Jr.

How do you remember a fallen hero?

It's not too hard for the well-liked Round Lake quarterback Mike Lampi, who passed away Oct. 13 after injuries sustained during a football game.

"He gave our defense fits," said Antioch head coach Del Pechauer, whose Sequoia fell to the Panthers 21-7 Oct. 7. "It's a terrible tragedy. But I couldn't be happier for that football team. They deserve to be in the playoffs. They worked hard to get where they've gotten and Lampi was a big reason for that."

In showing its support and sympathy, Pechauer and his Sequoia joined Grant Community High School in sending Round Lake footballs signed by their respective teams.

"It's amazing the support shown by not only our community but other surrounding communities," said Round Lake Assistant Football Coach Howard Conkling.

As far as the Panthers are concerned, Conkling said that the NSC Prairie Division school was planning on having a granite rock with the No. 10 on it placed somewhere in the infield of the track.

Starting with their final regular-season game at Wauconda Oct. 19, Panther players will also don a patch with No. 10 on it on their uniforms in memory of their former comrade.

The Panther volleyball team also made T-shirts in his honor. Hundreds of students and friends have also visited the Lampi household, bringing momentos from bumper stickers to T-shirts to photo collages.

"We've had up to as many as 25 kids over at one time. A lot of them we don't even know," said Mike's mother Debbie Lampi. "We knew he had friends but the support has been incredible."

The Round Lake Spartans Youth Football Organization, whom Lampi played for as a youth, is having armbands with the No. 10 made.

Around the county, moments of silence were also conducted at area football games the afternoon preceding Lampi's death.

And there will undoubtedly be more of the same prior to the start of each and every game throughout the area this weekend, the final one of the regular season.

The First State Bank in Round Lake Beach will also set up a memorial fund in Lampi's name.

"Safe to say, every game from now on will be dedicated to him. We know he'll be watching down on us," said Panther senior Mike Pflieger, the teams center and defensive lineman. "He will always be in our hearts."

TERRIFIC KID

at age 7.

When he was 8, Lampi embarked on a three-year stint with the Round Lake Spartans Youth Football Program.

"He was one of those kids everyone wished they had," said one of Lampi's former coaches, Dave Scarbo.

During his youth, he had also played youth baseball for Avon Township.

His passion for playing sports carried over to Magee Middle School in Round Lake where he primarily played basketball.

When he entered high school, Lampi became a three-sport athlete, playing the big-three: football, basketball and baseball.

He had attended summer football camps at Purdue University and always dreamed of playing for Notre Dame and then the Chicago Bears.

But he wasn't just an athlete. He was versatile, on and off the playing field.

"He always loved to draw, since he was 2," said Debbie Lampi.

"We had a canvas at home, so when he got an idea, he could draw it. He loved to draw in pencil. I asked him to draw something for me. He drew a real nice scenic picture of a lake with someone in a canoe," she continued.

Debbie Lampi said her son planned on majoring in art once he got to college, either at Purdue or Northern Illinois University.

"He was very gifted at it but had to be in the mood," she said, looking at a framed pencil drawing hanging on the living room wall that her son had sketched.

The drawing on the living room wall resembles that of a tree with leaves and various geometric shapes.

Lampi previously had artwork on display at the North Suburban Conference art show. A sculpture of his was also on display at Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville, where he started attending classes at age 7.

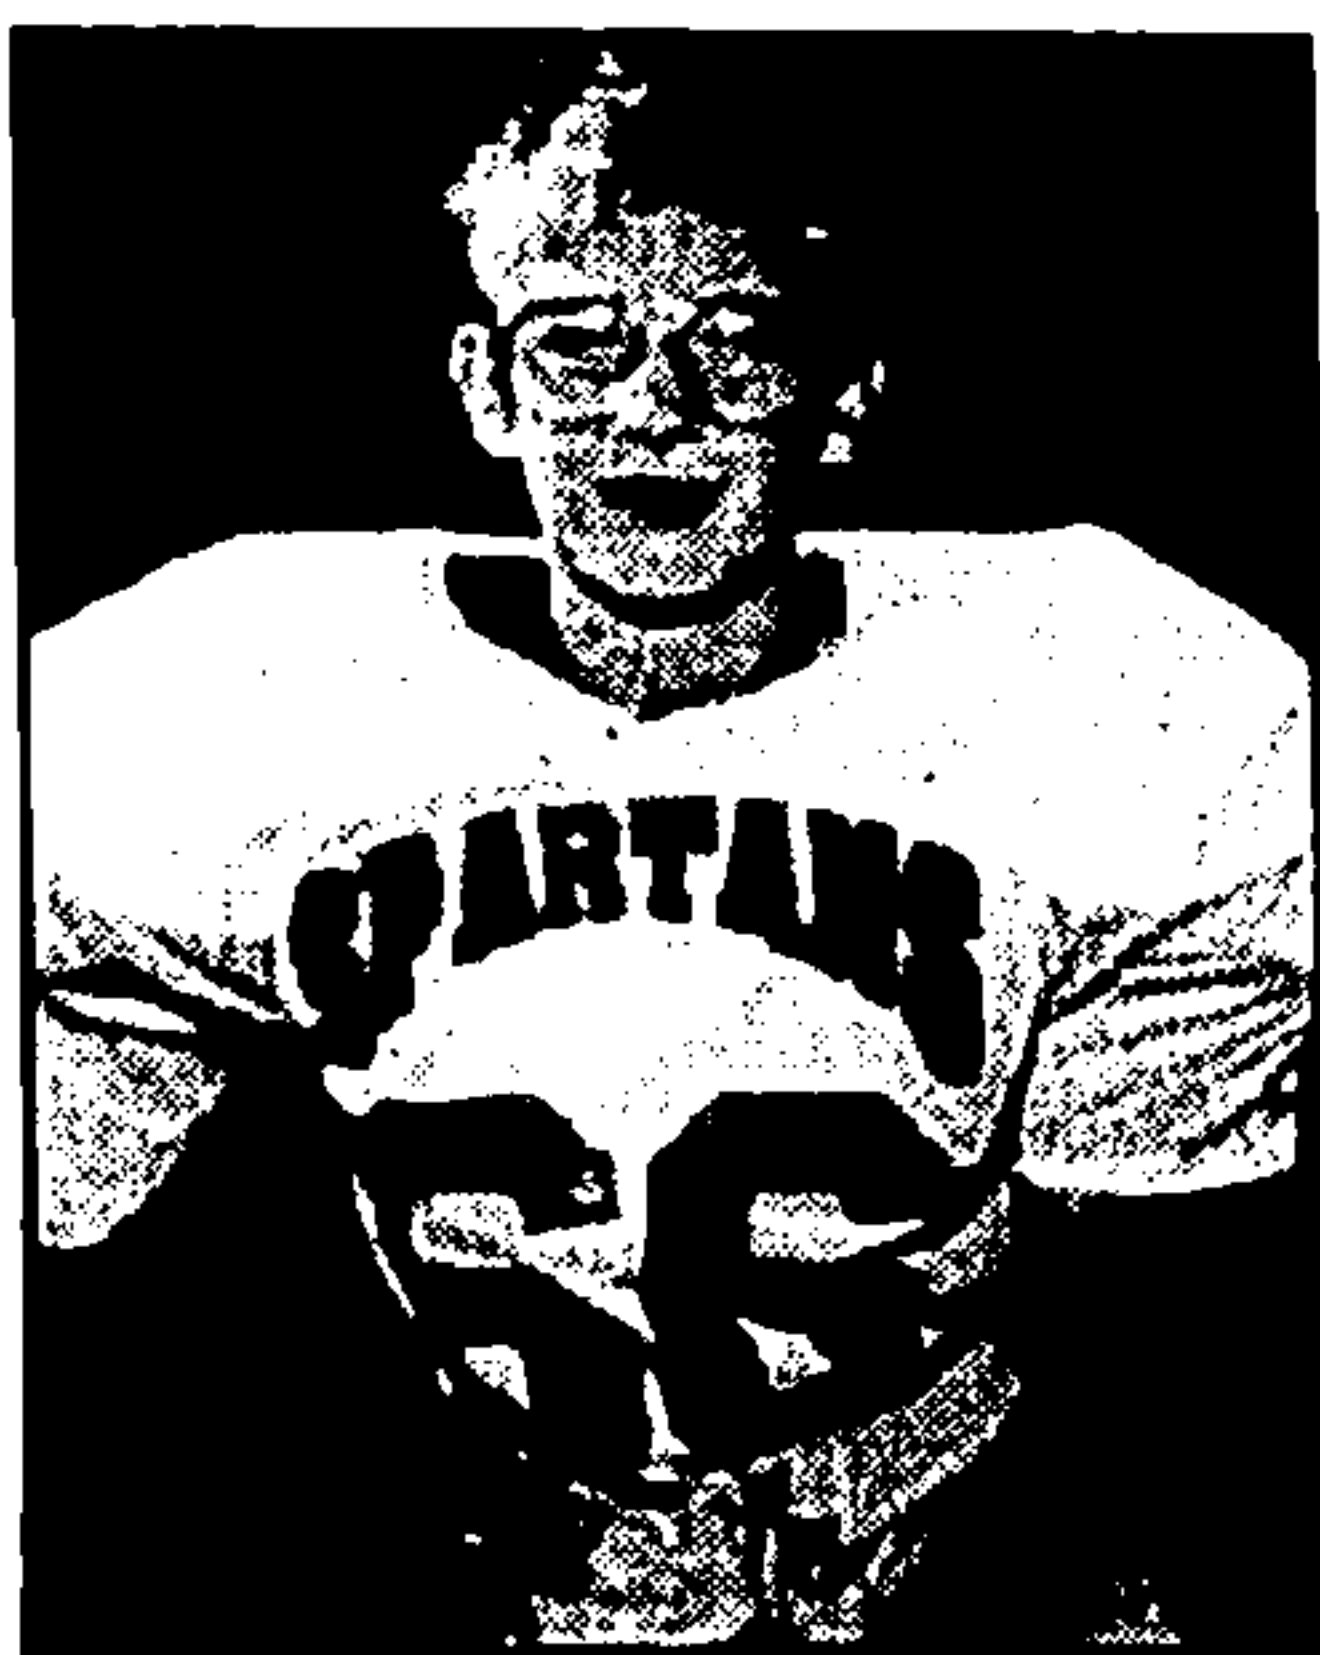

"He just had a knack for it," his mom said. "When he started, he did caricatures. At Adler, he took every class. He just wanted to draw."

Lampi then took art classes while at Magee, followed by some engineering courses in high school.

He was also one of the four finalists for homecoming king this fall and was a confirmed member of Community Protestant Church in Mundelein.

Well-rounded. Versatile. A lot of heart. Sounds like Mike Lampi.

A prankster. A tenacious competitor. A terrific son.—Steve Peterson contributed to this report.

Sammies—From a 6x10 foot trailer in 1964 that their father rented for us next to the gas station near our Chicago home, Sammies sold Vienna Hot Dogs for a quarter and soft drinks for a dime that first summer. Sammies was operated seasonally six months a year. Growing up and moving on, they opened a year-round store in Chicago in 1970 and two years later in 1972 a second in Grayslake, where they turned a walk-up summertime stand into a year-round fast-food operation. Expanded several times since, that restaurant has gone from six stools to seating for 78. In 1982 they opened in partnership with Dave Keith, a third location now located at 215 W. Rollins Road in Round Lake Beach. In 1988 they sold their original store in Chicago and now operate exclusively in the Lake County area. In 1997, a new Sammies was open in partnership with Tom Sheehan at 216 Milwaukee Ave. (Rt. 83) in Lake Villa. What hasn't changed in more than 37 years are the authentic Chicago Style Hot Dogs and other Chicago Style Sandwiches they serve. Visit all 3 Sammies locations: Grayslake, 799 Belvidere Rd., (Rt. 120 near 83) 223-4663; Round Lake Beach, 215 Rollins 546-4674; Lake Villa, 216 Milwaukee Ave. (Rt. 83 1/2 mile past Grand Ave.) 265-2400.

Patriotism, U.S. memorabilia popularity rises in county

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

The inscription on many items reads "Show your support."

The proof is definitely in the numbers.

Unfortunately it took the tragedy in New York and Washington D.C. Sept. 11 to make it happen, but sales of U.S. paraphernalia and memorabilia donning Old Glory have become the hottest ticket around.

"That first week (of the bombings) was crazy," said Lake Villa's Joyce Goulding, the head service clerk for Walgreens on Washington Street just west of Rte. 83 in Grayslake.

"Everyone's patriotism is definitely showing. People were pretty angry the first week it (the bombings) happened but I've noticed more courtesy and sensitivity lately. They want to get their hands on anything representing the United States."

Goulding said that the first week of the bombings yielded about 50 calls a day from people looking for anything to display on their cars or on the outside of their homes.

"People wanted to know when the next shipments were coming in," she said.

While the car flags are still at the top of everyone's wish list, other item sales aren't far behind.

"It's been tough keeping the flags in stock," said Michael Polzin, Walgreens spokesman. "We've been selling them as fast as we've been getting them."

If the flags aren't an option, Polzin said there are other items in equal demand.

"Flag stickers, pins and decals have also been popular," he said.

Supply on some items, like car flags, has been so heavy that Walgreens as well as other stores merchants have had some difficulty keeping them in stock, at least on the corporate level.

"Some of the local store managers have been getting items such as the flags from local vendors," said Polzin. "One of our goals is to get any of these items at a reasonable cost so that we can price them reasonably for the customer."

Polzin also said that most items are being bought locally, versus on the corporate level.

"What we've gotten on the corporate level, portions of the costs go towards relief efforts in New York and Washington D.C.," said Polzin.

In addition to the aforementioned items, other hot items donning Old Glory include yellow ribbons with a flag pin attached, T-shirts with the flag, Chicago and "Let Freedom Ring" embroidered, and various displays with suction cups for car windows.

One clerk at Osco in Kenosha, Wis. said the store had a shipment of 500 antenna flags come in last week—they were sold out in 15 minutes.

Prices for car flags generally hover hovering between $3-15, depending where you go. The general range for items has been between $2 and $10.

Anyone still searching for flags for their automobile should try any Walgreens, Sports Authority or MC Sporting Goods stores.

Most profits on the corporate go towards the American Red Cross for relief for the victims, firefighters and families that were directly affected by the East Coast tragedies.

EXTRAVAGANZA
SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 11th
BENEFITING

If you have children, know children, or ever were a child, help support the miracle of life at the seventh annual The Gift of Hope is a Gift of Love - Dream A Little Dream fashion show supporting St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Official sponsors for this event include Rezo Enterprises and Shaker Advertising Agency.

On Sunday, November 11th, over 700 guests will join together at the Westin O'Hare Hotel to view contemporary fashions by Zazz Productions, furs by York Furriers, and jewelry by Razzy Jewelers. Regular and grand raffle viewing begins at 11am, followed by the luncheon, fashions and special surprises including well-known Chicago broadcaster Tom Shaer as Master of Ceremonies. This year, a live auction will also be held for a Bulls or Blackhawks t-shirt, a fabulous Chimento designer jewelry set, and more.

The premier research and treatment center for children with catastrophic diseases, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, located in Memphis, Tennessee, has treated thousands of children from across the U.S. and 43 foreign nations. St. Jude, which is non-sectarian and treats children without regard to race, religion or ability to pay, is dedicated to fulfilling the dream of its founder, Danny Thomas - that no child should die in the dawn of life.

Tickets are $50 each, and tables of ten are available. The Westin O'Hare Hotel is located at 6100 N. River Road in Rosemont. Call the Midwest Regional St. Jude Office for tickets: 312-786-0460.

ATTENTION PET OWNERS
WE DO NOT KNOWINGLY ACCEPT ADS FOR ANIMALS IN OUR FREE/ GIVE AWAY COLUMN.

If you must give up your pet, please consider these facts.
*Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
*Some people who respond to these free animal ads are not reputable and are more concerned about making a profit than the animal.

*Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.

Using a Resume Writing Service Could Improve Interview Odds

There are many tools that can be used for writing a resume. Some of the most popular are: books that are designed to lead you through the process, software that is designed to create the resume using your words, and resume writing services.

Resume writing books are a good tool if you are a relatively accomplished writer and if you have a good understanding of the key words that recruiters are looking for in your skill area. However, you need to take the time to read the book(s) thoroughly and then apply what you have learned to the resume writing process.

Resume writing software may be a better tool for guidance on specific formats and the key words but you are still the only judge of the end product. Unless you have experience reviewing resumes, you may still not know if the finished resume is the document that will get you the interview with the decision-maker that can hire you.

Recently, I have seen the third alternative, resume writing services, used very effectively. One significant advantage of the better services is that they have trained writers who are familiar with what recruiters want to see in resumes. Subsequently, they can put your resume in a format that will be an easy reference tool for recruiters. Recruiters, like most of us, are overworked and they will favor resumes that are easy to read and those that highlight the skills they are seeking.

The primary drawback of a resume service is that you need to pay for these services. These services can cost anywhere from about $40 to well over $1000, depending on the experience required by the client. The more experience you have, the more work the service will need to do, subsequently the cost will be higher.

There are two different types of resume service. The first is the typing service that advertises as a resume service. They are prepared to type and edit your resume. A full service resume writing organization is prepared to interview you to make sure that they include all of the information that can help you to get an interview. If you have the skills to write your own resume and only need the clerical help to get it on to paper, the typing service is for you.

However, if you are like most of us the resume service is helpful to make sure that you are portraying your skills and experience as well as possible. According to Alice Jorgensen of All Write Resume Service in Libertyville, IL, the process starts with a free consultation to determine the client's level of experience and the appropriate type of resume. This process will determine the cost of the service. At this time the client is also interviewed to make sure that all of the important information is included in the resume.

The service will then format and develop your resume as you have directed. You can expect the process to take between two and five days. Ms. Jorgensen said that most clients enjoy the experience because it is completely focused on them and their job search. In addition, a good resume writing service may increase your chances of getting an interview.

Next week we will look at how to find the resume service that is best for you.

How To Survive The Job Search By Nancy Sakol

Q: I along with several others in my company have been a victim of downsizing and am without a job. The company released me after 11 years in the same position. I was a customer service representative responsible for some substantial accounts which I serviced well. I have several commendations from the company and letters from customers which I have recognition for. I left the company with a salary of $52K which includes my benefits and Christmas bonus and I have been searching for a position upward of what I have made. I figure that I since the company gave me six weeks severance pay I will then go on unemployment if I need to. So far I have sent in my resume to several of our competitors but I have not heard back from any but one who said they can't afford my salary. I spoke to an employment consultant from a firm who was not very encouraging when he heard the salary I was seeking. I guess my question is, am I setting my sights too high? I am single and live off my own income but have gotten used to living well. I don't want to change my lifestyle if at all possible.

A: Keep in mind that when you are figuring your salary, do not include your benefits, bonuses or commissions if you had those too. Your salary should be your base. What you intend to make before perks. This does not mean that you shouldn't have somewhat of an idea of what your bottom line is, including all those perks. It is just not the appropriate way to approach the job search. By stating that you are actively seeking $52K is closing the doors rapidly on opportunities. Of course it is not to say that there isn't someone out there who would be willing to pay. The figure is however, out of the ballpark for a CSR in today's market.
Eleven years with a company says a lot. It says that you have been very comfortable with an company who took very good care of you and recognized your talent and also knew that your yearly review should provide for an increase in your salary and keep you happy. It didn't provide any guarantees however that if that ever ended (as is the case), that you would be able to pick up where you left off necessarily. Without question I would become more flexible in your bottom line. You may find that there are trade-offs. Better benefit packages bonus incentives and such.
The thought of having to change one's lifestyle is never a pleasant thought. After being with the company for 11 years, the company undoubtedly took a look at their finances and figured there were too many employees making too much money. They realized they could have the same jobs done for less, leaving you and the others to rethink your own finances. It's referred to as being priced out of the market. If you are flexible enough to listen to offers, you may end up on top. Do not sit around long. Your severance, while it is for 6 weeks, leaves you with unemployment there after. If changing your lifestyle is a concern, then unemployment compensation should not fit into your plans if possible.
Go pro-active and open minded on this journey. Good luck!
